

Conviction Thrown Out

Airman is Back on Job

TOKYO (UP)—The Air Force today threw out Airman Donald Wheeler's court-martial conviction for refusal to get a "white sidewall" haircut and ordered him returned to duty.

But the unrepentant Wheeler said he still wouldn't get any haircut that made him "look like a jackass."

Col. Charles W. Johnstone, commander of the 6000th Support Wing at the U. S. Fuchu Air Base, said he ordered Wheeler's release after finding "certain cumulative errors and procedural irregularities in the trial" and after a talk with the young airman.

He said no new trial would be ordered and added:

"I am convinced that he has undergone a considerable change in attitude."

Despite his continued defiance of the "white sidewall" order, Wheeler, also thought his attitude had changed.

"I spent four days in the stockade," he told a reporter. "Your attitude would probably change, too."

He said that during his man-to-man talk with the colonel, "I agreed to be a respectable airman—one of the best in Fuchu."

He said he would get a regulation haircut Friday, but not the white sidewall kind.

However, along with Wheeler's release, the United Nations-U. S. Far East Command disclosed that the white sidewall was a thing of the past.

The haircut disappeared with the dissolving of the tri-service honor guard of command headquarters.

A spokesman for the Far East command said "the honor guard is dissolved and there is no more requirement for this special type haircut."

For his refusal to get the haircut, Wheeler drew a sentence of four months imprisonment, a $200 fine and reduction in rank. The haircut featured an Apache Indian-type cut with closely trimmed sides and a fringe on top.

Wheeler said the order to release him came as "quite a surprise."

He told newsmen "I'm glad it's over with. I want to forget all about it."

Air Force press officers said they thought the fact that the trial had dragged out with some of the original judges being replaced before the trial had concluded had been some of the irregularities noted by Johnstone.

Bob Evans is Enthusiastic About
First Plane Trip

NOTE BY TIMMO: Bob Evans, formerly of Eldorado and more recently of McLeansboro where he managed the McLeansboro Times-Leader and who is leaving soon to enter the public relations department of the University of Illinois, recently took a plane ride. And before we go further, he got back.

Bob took the plane to Dillon, S. C., to attend the wedding of his sister-in-law after his wife and children preceded him by car. He returned with his family.

The plane ride was Bob's first, and here is what he had to say about it:

Last Saturday, I observed my 35th birthday.

Just two days before that I gained a brand-new experience. I took my very first plane ride on a trip from Evansville to Charlotte, North Carolina.

Quite frankly, I had misgivings about my first flight. Not because I was afraid that the plane would crash (though I suppose any trip by land, sea or air is preceded by some thoughts of accidents) but because I suffer motion sickness.

En route to and from overseas stations during the war, I nearly died from sea sickness so I have often avoided flying because I feared air sickness.

Immediately upon entering the plane (which was an Eastern Air Lines Silver Falcon 440 with two engines and seats for 40 passengers), I informed the flight attendant, Miss Dutchie Milligan of Orlando, Fla., that I expected to be air sick and what should I do.

She very kindly showed me the handy cups, containers and the way to the rest rooms. But she also disagreed with my belief that I would be sick pointing out that the weather was ideal for flying. I declined her offer of pills because I wanted to learn if I would get sick or not.

As we prepared for the flight, I used the time to good advantage in inspecting this vehicle which would soon be sailing through the thin air some miles above the earth containing the most precious cargo in the world—me.

I especially was observant as we sat on the end of the runway with the plane shaking with vibrations from the powerful motors that were roaring with all their power. As I looked at the shiny long aluminum wing spread out underneath me, I could visualize some aircraft worker with an early bowling date or suffering from a crippling hangover of the night before as he carelessly applied rivets and negligently omitted necessary parts to hold the thing together.

Then the plane started racing down the runway and literally leaped into the air. My ears began to pop and we suddenly seemed to be standing still but one look out and down from the window discredited this belief.

It was nearing dusk as we took off and the beautifully plowed fields stretched out beneath us and the river and neat roadways cut attractive patterns.

Then we passed over a cemetery.

A $1,000 CHECK is the object of their attention. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Boren, 507 South McKinley, carefully examine a check for $1,000 received Wednesday, prize money for winning the St. Louis Post-Dispatch crossword quiz last week. Mrs. Boren, the former Miss Elaine Whiteside, was officially the winner of the contest, but declared it was a "family affair" as Phillip gave plenty of assistance in coming up with the correct answers. Although they had participated in other contests, this was their first Post Dispatch entry. When asked what their plans were for using the money, they revealed Phillip would enter the University of Illinois medical school in Chicago in September and the $1,000 would go toward the expenses of living in the big city and going to college. Murphysboro Reporter Says He
Knows No Reason for Attack

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (UP)—A young, red-haired newspaper reporter, victim of an unmerciful beating, said today he could think of no reason for the "cowardly attack."

Robert McClure, 25, a reporter in the Murphysboro bureau of the Southern Illinois newspaper of Carbondale, Ill., was kicked and beaten into unconsciousness on Wednesday shortly after leaving a tavern.

He lay along U. S. 51 for three and one-half hours before recovering consciousness and crawling to a farmhouse for aid. Authorities rushed him to Murphysboro Hospital where he was placed in an oxygen tent, and later released after treatment.

In recent months, McClure has written stories about the sale of liquor to minors, the mysterious tavern death of a Sparta, Ill., businessman and questionable road and bridge contracts.

The liquor-to-minor sale story involved the tavern McClure visited Tuesday night. However, the newsman said he and Gene Hines, owner of the tavern, were good friends. McClure said he did not think anyone in the tavern with him that night was involved.

McClure's mother revealed she had received a series of threatening telephoned calls the latest one Sunday in which the caller warned she'd better keep her son "off my back." However, Mrs. McClure said she didn't place too much stock in the telephone threats.

McClure said his mother didn't tell him about the calls until Wednesday after the beating "because she didn't want to worry me."

McClure said his glasses were knocked off, one eye closed, one tooth knocked out and a finger mashed, besides multiple bruises.

Bill Boyne, McClure's managing editor, described McClure as an aggressive reporter, but said he had no way of knowing if the beating stemmed from a newspaper story or a personal grudge.

"He's made some enemies," Boyne said, "and he's had some threats. But so have a lot of us."

Humphrey to Retire Monday

WASHINGTON (UP)—George Magoffin Humphrey will hang up his homburg next Monday as Treasury secretary.

Behind him he leaves the prospect of a third straight balanced budget—the first time this three-in-a-row feat has been accomplished since the great depression of the 1930's.

During his regime the national debt was reduced by two billion dollars to 272 billion dollars.

He also leaves some hot controversies over his policies—notably the celebrated "tight money" situation and the high interest rate the government has been paying lately on its own securities.

Ahead of the Cleveland industrialist is another tour of duty in big business, this time as board chairman of National Steel Corp., Pittsburgh.

The White House announced that Humphrey will depart next Monday. His resignation was announced in May. His successor, former Deputy Defense Director Robert B. Anderson, will be sworn in the same day at 11 a. m. e. t. in President Eisenhower's office.

David B. Edwards,
78, Dies; Rites
Sunday at 2 p. m.

David B. Edwards, 78, whose home was at 927 Barnett street, Harrisburg, died at the Lightner hospital at 3:50 a. m. today. He had been in failing health for two years, had been ill for about a week and was in the hospital for three days.

Born in Benton, son of the late Hestia and Mary Gunter Edwards, Mr. Edwards leaves his wife, Hattie, and the following children: Mrs. Verdelia Bramlett, Steeleville, Mrs. Ora Fletcher, Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Mary Margaret Harris, Girard, and Mrs. Beverly Reed, Harrisburg; seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. His brother, Phillip Edwards of Marion, survives and he was preceded in death by a son and daughter, Kenneth and Glennie Edwards.

Mr. Edwards was a member of the First Baptist Mission, was a retired miner and last worked at O'Garra No. 12.

The body will lie in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home and the funeral will be held there at 2 p. m. Sunday, with Rev. Waldo Shelton officiating.

Dixie Foes Score Victory

Sen. Johnson Predicts Rights
Bill With Jury Trial Amendment

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said today there is a "good chance" the Senate within two weeks will approve a civil rights bill with a jury trial amendment.

It would be essentially a voting rights bill.

The Senate headed into the jury trial issue after stripping the bill of a heavily-disputed provision that would have given the attorney general broad injunctive powers to enforce constitutional rights generally.

Dixie foes of the bill scored a crucial victory when the Senate Wednesday voted 52-38 to kill the bulk of the disputed section—Part III of the administration's four-point rights bill.

Foes of the bill claimed President Eisenhower had repudiated Part III at his news conference last week. Supporters pointed out the President had said previously he wanted the bill passed without crippling amendments.

Eisenhower had no immediate comment. Both he and his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, were out playing golf when the Senate acted.

Eighteen Republicans joined 34 Democrats in voting for the bipartisan amendment to strike the section. Twenty-five Republicans and 13 Democrats voted against the amendment, offered by Sens. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. M.).

This left the bill, which has been approved by the House, with three main provisions. They would (1) create a bipartisan commission on civil rights, (2) provide for a new assistant attorney general for civil rights (3) authorize the attorney general to seek injunctions or other civil court action to halt violations or threatened violations of Negro voting rights.

As of Wednesday night, 1,232,100 persons have heard Graham since he began his New York Crusade May 15. The 349 persons who recorded "decisions for Christ" brought that total to 37,811.

At Annual Meeting

Allen Murphy Is Honored for 40
Years Service On Red Cross Board

Allen Murphy of Eldorado was honored at the annual meeting of the Saline County chapter of American Red Cross, held Monday night at the Harrisburg National bank, for his 40 years of service as an active board member. He was presented with a 40-year pin and certificate by the chapter, which were accepted for Mr. Murphy by John Murphy as he could not be present at the meeting.

Mr. Murphy helped organize the Eldorado branch chapter and has served as chairman of the Eldorado branch, also as secretary-treasurer, and has been active in fund drives and home service since World War I. He has served continuously as an active member of the Saline County chapter since 1917.

At the board meeting John Murphy was elected chairman of the board of directors, Mrs. Nelle Meyers, vice chairman; Mrs. Eugene Morris, secretary, and Richard Davenport, treasurer.

Reports by Chairmen

Services chairmen made the following reports for the past year, covering the period from July 1, 1956, through June 30, 1957:

John Murphy, Junior Red Cross chairman, reported 25 schools were enrolled in Junior Red Cross and 105 Junior Red Cross gift boxes were filled by the school children in Saline county.

In the nursing service program six have been certified in mother and baby care, taught by Mrs. Mabel G. Burton, and 21 Junior high students were certified in home care of the sick, taught by Mrs. Ethel Mathias. Mrs. John Humm served as enrollment nurse.

Ernest Duncan, disaster chairman, reported $1,863.17 spent in Saline county for disaster by the national organization. Saline county residents donated $197.05 to Hungarian relief. Mrs. Scerial Thompson served as disaster nurse.

Mrs. Warren Tuttle, vice chairman of volunteers, reported 668 volunteers served the chapter last year. In the blood program 15 doc-

Under the voting rights provision U. S. district judges could jail—without jury trial—persons held in contempt for disregarding injunctions.

Southern opponents have centered their fire against the bill on Part III and the lack of a jury trial guarantee in the voting rights section.

A vote on a jury trial amendment is not expected before next Monday or Tuesday.

Evangelist Hits
Sin of 'Pride'

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Graham said Wednesday night that he has found it "more difficult to bring a proud man to Christ than it is to bring a drunkard, an adulterer or a narcotics addict."

The evangelist told a Madison Square Garden audience of 14,500 persons that "the sin of pride" afflicts thousands of Americans today and "we're proud and selfish as a people and as individuals."

"It is the sin of all of us," Graham said, "the sin of ego. We have 'I' trouble and it's not related to sight. We don't believe the truth, that pride is hateful to God. Yet God says no proud man shall enter the kingdom of heaven. 'You don't come to God in pride, but in humility—that's the reason I ask you to come forward here to make your decision for Christ—to show humility.'"

As of Wednesday night, 1,232,100 persons have heard Graham since he began his New York Crusade May 15. The 349 persons who recorded "decisions for Christ" brought that total to 37,811.

Williams Told
To Have Counsel
In Court Aug. 16

City Commissioner Don Williams is scheduled to appear with a new attorney in circuit court Aug. 16 in the quo warranto proceedings which seek to remove him from city office.

Atty. Lloyd H. Melton, attorney for the plaintiffs in the case in which Mayor Claud Gibbons and Commissioner Morris Darnell have filed quo warranto proceedings to remove Williams on grounds he has moved outside the city, this week filed a petition to require Williams to name his attorney of record and to set the case for trial.

The petition charged the defendant with every means of delaying the action.

Williams appeared in his own behalf before Judge Wright and pointed out that his attorney, Scerial Thompson, had been buried only one week and that he was consulting with a lawyer with the idea in mind of securing him for his counsel.

Circuit Judge C. E. Wright of Carbondale then set Aug. 16—the next regular default day—as the time that Williams should be in court with new counsel.

Judge Wright this morning appointed legal counsels for two Menard prison inmates who are seeking release on habeas corpus petitions.

He appointed Arlie O. Boswell to represent James Ryan, sentenced for the murder of Samuel Black. Ryan's case has been brought up a number of times. Appointed to represent Clifford Bradley, serving a term for burglary and larceny, was Atty. Lester Lightfoot.

In a suit over oil royalty, Judge Wright ruled in favor of plaintiffs Oliver and Roger Williams in their suit for a 1-32nd override on land in Tate township. The Sohio Pipeline Co. had been named the defendant in the action.

Two divorces were granted. Bess B. Buermann of Eldorado was granted a divorce from George B. Buermann and her former name, Bess B. Adams, was restored. Afton Rollins of Carrier Mills was granted a divorce from Chester Rollins.

Red Skelton Patches Up Squabble
Which Cut Short European Tour

BARCELONA, Spain (UP)—Comedian Red Skelton was reported today to have patched up the squabble with his red-haired wife which cut short the European tour they were making for their leukemia-stricken son.

Skelton left Rome in a huff Wednesday night with his wife, Gloria, their daughter Valentina, 10, and their 9-year-old son, Richard, who is suffering from leukemia. But they left their New York-bound plane in Barcelona and checked into a hotel.

They refused to see newsmen, but members of the hotel staff said Skelton told them he planned to stay here two days then go on to Paris, London and Dublin.

There was no immediate indication the Skelton's visit to Spain was connected with the offer made by a world-famous Spanish doctor to examine Richard and see if a cure is possible.

United Press correspondent Larry Collins was present when the family squabble began in Rome.

Skelton wanted to make the rest of the European trip in the blue bus he had bought for $2,400.

Mrs. Skelton was afraid of his driving on the twisting, narrow European roads and living off the beaten track in a foreign country.

Richard said in the car going to the airport, "Gee, I wish we weren't going back, but that's the way it goes."

Valentina was anxious to return home. She was afraid her French poodle would transfer its affections to the maid who is looking after it.

Inquest Held
In Slaying of
New Haven Man

Testimony by Four
Witnesses Claim Ray
Mears Did Shooting

A Gallatin county coroner's jury Wednesday night recommended that the three Mears brothers of New Haven community be held for grand jury action in the shotgun killing of 74-year-old Vinson York at York's New Haven home.

Coroner Charley Cox of Ridgeway conducted the inquest in the Gallatin circuit court room at Shawneetown, assisted by State's Attorney Alton Greer and Sheriff Millard Holloway.

There was testimony from eight witnesses and the reading of sworn statements by two others before the jury retired, to return with the verdict which said that the elderly man died July 19 of gunshot wounds inflicted by Ray Mears, Hallas Mears and Robert Mears and recommended that they be held to await action of the Gallatin county circuit court grand jury.

Preliminary Hearing Monday

The preliminary hearing in the case, in which the three brothers have been held on murder warrants, is scheduled for 10 a. m. Monday at Shawneetown before Justice of the Peace W. L. Sanders.

The inquest, which lasted almost three hours, brought out testimony from four witnesses that Ray Mears, 26-year-old resident of a rural area seven miles from New Haven in White county, did the shooting. Hallas is 35 and Robert 23.

Paul Edward Mears, 13-year-old son of Hallas, told of being outside with his father when Ray walked toward the York home nearby where York was on the porch peeling potatoes. He testified that he heard nothing said but that Ray fired one shot at York.

Clarence (Bud) Thompson, also a neighbor, testified York walked to his house after the shooting, sat on his porch and called for him to come out.

Wives Testify

"He said he thought that Ray Mears did the shooting," Thompson said.

Henry Sparrow of New Haven, who said he and York had been friends for more than fifty years, testified that he saw York "in Bud's yard, bloody all over, and he told me that 'Ray Mears shot me.'"

When asked if he had ever known of York getting into trouble, he said that York had been in the penitentiary about 35 years ago, but didn't know the reason he was sent.

The wives of two of the held men, Mary, wife of Hallas, and Leona, wife of Ray, testified, but some of their testimony was vague.

Mary said that Ray and Leona came to their house between 5:30 and 6 p. m., that Ray began hunting for his shotgun. She said that Hallas hid the gun in the attic while she was fixing supper.

She said Ray didn't say a word but left by the way of the front door and a few minutes later a shot was fired. She said she was fixing supper and didn't know much of what happened but that Ray came back in the house and left with his wife. He made no statements to her after the incident, she said.

Testimony By Boy

She did testify that her husband jumped up and went out when somebody said "Here comes Ray with a gun," and said she didn't know who fired the shot except somebody said Ray did it.

Paul Edward told of following his father, Hallas, from the house

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: He's generals in civilian jobs behave too much like generals; General Vogel, head of TVA, behaves like prima donna; skipper of USS Saratoga gives his expense account.

WASHINGTON.—When President
Eisenhower appoints military men to high office, he seems to have a propensity for appointing the wrong man to the wrong place at the wrong time.

His first military appointee, West Point classmate Gen. Joseph Swing as Commissioner of Immigration, became famous for using government automobiles to go hunting in Mexico, using his personal, privileged position to obtain a Mexican maid at low wages, and using government airplanes for political purposes.

On top of this, Gen. Herbert D.
Vogel, appointed to be chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, has proved himself a prima donna reminiscent of the days when Washington fought over the question of whether Dolly Gann, half-sister of Vice President Curtis, should be seated at dinner ahead of Alice Roosevelt Longworth, wife of the Speaker.

Invited to attend a dinner by the Junior Order of Mechanics honoring AFL-CIO President George Meany last month, General Vogel refused to go in to the dinner because he wasn't seated at the head table.

General Vogel found himself seated with a group of distinguished industrialists and labor leaders, but this did not please him.
He actually threatened to leave.

Finally, it was learned that Congressman Howard Baker of Tennessee would not be able to attend because of a death in his family, and to keep the peace, General
Vogel was waltzed up to the speaker's table to take Baker's place.

MORE TVA TROUBLE

Again, the general was invited to a meeting of the Delta Council in Cleveland, Miss. Speakers at the meeting were Harvey Firestone, head of the well-known rubber company of that name, and chief of Army Engineers Maj. Gen.
E. C. Itchner.

Once again, when Vogel was not invited to sit at the speaker's rostrum, he refused to attend the meeting.

General Vogel milled around outside, showing his disgust for the activities, then drove back to Knoxville.

On another occasion, President
Diem of the friendly country of Viet-Nam, was visiting the Tennessee Valley. General Vogel conducted President Diem on the tour, but, returning back to Knoxville, the general switched the motor-cade through residential Knoxville so he could stop off at his home.
The general got off, left the motor-cade, sent the president on to his hotel.

It is strict protocol that a foreign visitor be delivered to his destination before the American host leaves the entourage. State Department officials were red-faced, but found it impossible to give orders to the grandstanding general whom Ike appointed head of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Note — Eisenhower now faces trouble with another appointee to the TVA—Arnold R. Jones. Senators probing Jones' background have found that he accepted fees as a lawyer while supposedly serving the people of Kansas on the State Corporation Commission. Since Eisenhower has appointed more conflict-of-interest officials than any other president, it's a safe bet the senators will take a long look at Commissioner Jones before they confirm him.

WASHINGTON WHISPERS

Edward Bennett Williams, who scored Washington's No. 1 legal victory in defending Teamsters strongman Jimmy Hoffa, slipped over to Teamster union headquarters during the trial to confer with a squad of lawyers. . . . They urged him to take a Negro attorney with him into the court to influence the eight Negro jury members. This was to offset the government which had a Negro attorney sitting at the lawyers' table.
... Instead, it was arranged for ex-heavyweight champ Joe Louis to visit the courtroom and make a show of his friendship for Hoffa. . . . FBI boss J. Edgar Hoover was furious over Hoffa's acquittal. This makes the third big headline case the FBI has developed which was lost. Others were Judith Coplon, who allegedly spied for Russia; Johnny Dio, who allegedly ordered the acid-blinding of columnist Victor Riesel; and now Jimmy Hoffa, who allegedly bribed a Senate Racket investigator. . . . Sen. Bill Knowland was about to yield to southern arguments and kill most of part 3 of the civil rights bill, when he got a call from Negro leaders.

They had been to see Vice President Nixon, who stood pat for a strong bill and no compromise on part 3. Knowland and Nixon are political rivals. The greatest goal in American public life—the White House—is before their eyes. Learning of Nixon's stand, Knowland changed his mind, stood pat for a strong part 3. . . . Competition applies to politics as well as business.

PAINTING THE USS SARATOGA
The Navy is now showing congressmen its answer to this column's charge that Capt. Robert Moore spent $65,000 to spruce up the super-carrier Saratoga for President Eisenhower's overnight cruise.

The Navy is telling congressmen that Moore really spent less than $7,000 for paint and tile, also only $1,800 to redecorate a cabin for Ike instead of $3,500 as this column reported.

What the Navy did was order
Captain Moore to investigate himself. His report on himself is now being peddled as the Navy's official answer.

However, here are some expenses that Moore overlooked:
First, he counted only paint and tile purchases after April 1. Yet he began beautifying the ship in February after the first report that Ike might visit the carrier.
Specifically, he spent $1,500 redecorating the quarter-deck. He changed the blue and gold color scheme to green and white.

He also ordered the passageways leading to "flag country" painted black and white. Two days later he changed his mind and ordered them repainted green and white.
Eventually he changed his mind again and had them tiled.

All this was done before April
1. Moore's report also doesn't mention other extensive repairs or include a nickel for labor.

Actually the Saratoga was in tip-top condition and didn't need any redecoration.
Captain Moore's report also seems to omit money that he generously spent on his own quarters.

He had his own cabin completely refurnished and redecorated, though his predecessor had scarcely used it. He also ordered a sterling silver candelabra for his cabin over the objection of his fiscal officer who protested that it wasn't a proper expense.

The skipper also demanded a portable typewriter with special italic type that had to be ordered directly from the factory for his quarters. Other purchases included a $395 hi-fi set and a $350 desk set with matching wastebasket.

Shawmeker-Hurd Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norman Hurd

Miss Anita Louise Shawmeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Shawmeker of Shorewood Beach, Joliet, and Bill Norman Hurd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Hurd of Black Road, Joliet, formerly of Harrisburg and Eldorado, were married June 29 at three in the afternoon. The double-ring wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. James Franz in the Central Joliet Presbyterian church in the Troy community.

The altar of the church, before which the bridal couple exchanged their marriage vows, was decorated with white gladioli and white carnations, backed with tall candles of burning white tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white swiss-embroidered organza wedding gown, fashioned with a molded empire bodice having a scalloped V scooped-neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant ballerina-length skirt of ruffled tiers, was worn over a Dior hoop. Her gauntlets were of matching material. Her seed pearl and rhinestone tiara secured a chapel length veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and Amazon lilies with ivy streamers. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Mary Lynnette Hurd, sister of the bridegroom, served as the maid of honor and wore a Nile green embroidered organza dress with a fitted bodice and a draped cowl, forming cap sleeves. Her bouffant ballerina length skirt was worn over hoops. Her hat was of pastel braid straw, styled in a lattice coronet and having a short circular veil. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow roses circled with white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jayne Mulligan and Miss Joyce Hurley, friends of the bride, wore dresses and hats duplicating that of the maid of honor, one in orchid color and the other in yellow. Their bouquets were yellow roses circled with white carnations. The candle lighter, Miss Judith Ann Conico of Lockport, wore a dress of pink, duplicating the costumes of the bridesmaids.

Robert Highley, Manhattan, Ill., acted as the best man and James Shawmeker Jr., and James Turk of Joliet, were the ushers.

Miss Mary Jane Begun sang, "I Love Your Truly," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the organ by Miss Jeanette Sing, who also played the wedding marches.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of white nylon over ice blue taffeta, and an ice blue hat and white accessories.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of sheath design, with brown, white and gold stripes. Her accessories were white.

There was a reception in the parlors of the church immediately following the wedding ceremony. The decorations were of white gladioli and white carnations. There was a tiered wedding cake on the bride's table, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Among the hostesses was Miss Leah Ann Clark, friend of the bride.

The bridal couple left, following the reception, for a honeymoon trip through the Southern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurd are now at home to their friends at 420 Pontiac street, Joliet, where Mr. Hurd is employed by the Caterpillar Tractor company. He is a graduate of Eldorado Township high school. Mrs. Hurd, a graduate of the Joliet high school, was an employee of the Ben Franklin stores in Joliet.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ferrell, RFD 2, Harrisburg, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Naas, Murphysboro; Mrs. Louise Wilson, New Haven; Mrs. Eula Davis, Altamont; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ferrell, Frankfort; Mr. and Mrs. James R. Ferrell, Steger; Miss Edna Kathryn Grant, Eldorado; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hanley, Melbourne, Fla.; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Rich, New Lenox.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Martin and children, Dawan and DeWayne, returned Tuesday from a 2,200-mile vacation trip. After visiting Springfield, they visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Meyers in Des Moines, Iowa, John Martin Jr. and family in Brownsburg, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spilker in Muncie, Ind., John F. Martin and family in Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Bill York and family in Seymour, Ind., a number of friends in Lansing, Ill., and Hammond, Ind., and also toured Chicago and Louisville, Ky. Mr. Martin is Harrisburg fire chief.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bean and daughter, Kimberly Ann, left Monday to return to Atlantic City, N. J., after a visit with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bean and Mr. and Mrs. Aubra Jones, during the past two weeks. He is stationed at the Navy base at Atlantic City.

Slumber Party Held For Tennessee Granddaughter

Mrs. Carrie Young, 2 West Lincoln street, Harrisburg, held a slumber party in her home Monday night for her granddaughter, Doris Jean Boatright, who is visiting from Goodlettsville, Tenn.

Attending the party were Sarah Beth Rice, Brenda Martin, Kay Craver, Martha Coker, Nancy Edwards, Belle Turner, Janet Sanders, Sharon Brown and the guest of honor, Doris Jean Boatright.

Doris Jean is visiting with her other grandmother, Mrs. Ola Boatright, while she is in Harrisburg.

Features of the slumber party were midnight refreshments of angel food cake, ice cream and soft drinks, a corn popping session and 9 o'clock breakfast.

Good Neighbors Home Bureau Elects Officers

Mrs. Walter Lewis was hostess Tuesday afternoon at her home north of Raleigh to members of the Good Neighbors unit of Saline County Home Bureau.

Mrs. A. A. Gholson presented the major lesson on the preparation of low calorie foods and she gave samples of recipes she had prepared.

Six girls who are members of a 4-H club led by Mrs. Lowell Tison were present and modeled skirts and blouses they have made as club projects. The girls were Diane Tison, Donna Downey, Pamela Jamerson, Kay Harbison, Hazel Stone and Brenda Rhine.

Mrs. R. L. Rhine, chairman, announced the following officers which have been elected to serve the next club year, beginning in September: Chairman, Mrs. Lowell Tison; vice-chairman, Mrs. Leslie Via; secretary, Mrs. R. L. Rhine; program chairman, Mrs. Phillip Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. Gholson; health chairman, Mrs. Blanche Spurlock; and reporter, Mrs. Hayes Spurlock.

Refreshments of ice cream, strawberries and cookies were served to two guests, Mrs. Carroll Harbison and Mrs. Victor Roberts, and these members, Mrs. Raymond Rhine, Mrs. R. L. Rhine, Mrs. Gholson, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Dallas Tucker, Mrs. Tison and Mrs. Lewis.

It was announced that there will be no regular meeting in August and that the September meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Tucker. At this meeting dues will be payable and new officers will take over.

Don't Be Fooled By Poison Ivy

LANSEING, Mich. — (UP) — Most persons think they can recognize poison ivy, the scourge of summer picnics, but there are some harmless plants that resemble the itchy stuff.

The Michigan State Health Department said the old couplet, "leaflets three, let them be," is one of the best reminders for the summer.

Poison ivy grows as a vine, bush or shrub but the best way to spot it is to watch for three shiny green leaflets.

Virginia creeper is similar in appearance, the department said, but has five leaves and is harmless.

A thorough washing of the part of the body which came in contact with the three shiny leaves is the best method of counteracting its effects. Then a physician should be called immediately.

AT SALVATION ARMY CAMP—Scenes at the Salvation Army camp at Bourbon, Mo., when the Harrisburg delegation of boys and girls were present. Harrisburg had the largest delegation at the camp, nine taking music and three Bible. With Lt. Mildred Wallace of the local corps one of the instructors of vocal music. Special awards were given for the top students in each band, vocal group and Bible class and the top Bible student was Hilda Brasher, from Harrisburg, who won a ten-day scholarship to the Salvation Army's Territorial Leadership Institute at Camp Lake Wisconsin. She will meet with students from 11 Central states July 23-Aug. 1. Another Harrisburg student, Eddie Estes, won second place medal

Has Definite Ideas

Marion Girl to Step Down as President of Girls' Nation

By Sam Hancock
United Press Staff Correspondent

MARION, ILL. (UP)—At the age of 18, Ann Morgan already is an "elder statesman."

She has been president of Girls' Nation, U.S.A., this year and she's leaving office with definite notions about teen-agers.

Ann says that she believes that 18-year-olds are not ready to be given the vote and that Elvis Presley is just a passing thing.

Ann steps down from her high post when the 11th annual convention of the citizenship training group sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary convenes at the University of Maryland July 27.

On hand will be delegates from 47 states, the District of Columbia and the Panama Canal Zone. However, Ann will not attend.

Ann was elected president of Illinois Girls' State in 1956, the year before she moved up to become her home state's first president of Girls' Nation.

Confidence in Teens

Democracy and citizenship training have found an able champion in the chief of Girls' Nation. She has traveled 14,000 miles, made a hundred speeches and several television and radio appearances on their behalf.

The Illinois Legislature adopted a resolution commending the teenager for her achievements.

Ann has unshakable confidence in America's teen-agers, but she does not think they are ready for some responsibilities—voting, to name one.

"Delegates to Girls' Nation from Georgia and Kentucky, where 18-year-olds are allowed to vote, told about write-ins for Bridey Murphy and Santa Claus," said Ann. "We are not ready for the privilege of voting when these things happen."

Ann admits that some teen-agers are too easily influenced by the way Elvis Presley or some other movie star wears his hair.

She thinks rock-and-roll music is all right, but she thinks Presley is just a "passing fancy." Ann prefers Pat Boone.

"If adults could attend Girls' Nation, they wouldn't worry about having to turn the country over to the teen-agers some day," says Ann. "If the enthusiasm there could be bottled and sold on the street corners, American adults would have no fear for the future of this country."

Mandatory Civics Classes

The Girls' Nation chief frowns on school leaders who do not give students the opportunity to develop leadership in such activities as student councils.

"Students should demand such training if it is not offered," said Ann.

She thinks civics, government and civil defense training courses should be made mandatory in all high schools to impress citizenship responsibilities upon teen-agers.

"It should be made a living thing, instead of dull statistic or fact," Ann said.

Before she was called to the principal's office two years ago and informed she had been named a delegate to Girls' State, Ann had thought of making government work a career.

She will enter the University of Illinois this fall to major in political science with ultimate hope of winding up in Europe as a member of her country's foreign service.

Soil Conservation Service Stresses Safety on Farm

"National Farm Safety Week" July 21-27 is receiving special attention from the Soil Conservation Service as well as from other agencies and local organizations according to Tom Morgan, Conservationist, in charge of the Saline County Soil Conservation Service office.

Morgan pointed out that conservation of human resources is important as well as conservation of natural resources, and that we cannot afford to lose any of our good Conservation District Cooperators via the accident route.

The replacement of gullies with good grassed waterways which can easily be crossed, the repair of broken tile and filling of the tile hole are examples of conservation practices which create safer farm working conditions Morgan explained. A well organized conservation Farm Plan, resulting in a systematic operation of the farm should create a safer place to work and live in as well as conserve soil, Morgan added.

The National Safety Council reports that farm accidents killed 13,000 and injured 1,100,000 farm people during 1956. So be careful, when building that waterway or pond. You are needed by your family, by farm friends, and by the nation.

The Soil Conservation Service has a very active safety program for their own personnel throughout the country. This program includes awards for preventing motor vehicle accidents and for preventing disabling injuries.

Surgeon General Hails Success of Anti-Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (UP)—Surgeon General Leroy Burney today hailed the success of the Salk anti-polio vaccine and urged 41 million still unvaccinated Americans to take the shots.

He reported that more than 68 million Americans have received at least one Salk shot since the

Motor Vehicle Registration Shows Increase

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Motor vehicle registration at the half-way mark of 1957 was 116,080 greater than at the same time last year and only 94,492 below the 1956 12-month total, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter reported today.

In only one category, buses, was there a decline, from 1,661 a year ago to 1,600 this year. The $77,842,005.50 collected in license fees represents an increase of $5,370,313.50 over last year's revenue at the same time, Secretary Carpenter said.

Comparative figures for the six-month period of the two years are:

	1957	1956
Passenger Cars	2,912,110	2,820,669
Trucks	411,597	399,064
Buses	1,600	1,661
Trailers and semi-trailers	98,703	87,382
Motorcycles	18,816	18,176
Dealers	8,047	7,838
Totals	3,450,873	3,334,793 program was started April 12, 1955.

Of this total, Burney said about 48 million need one or more shots to complete the recommended series of three injections. About 41 million persons under 40 years of age have had no Salk shots.

Burney reviewed the progress of the nation's polio vaccination program at a meeting with leading medical and public health authorities late Tuesday and summarized his views in a statement today.

"All studies," Burney said, "continue to show the effectiveness of the vaccine." He said there are no figures available on how many of the persons afflicted with polio this year received Salk shots.

SUBSTITUTE DOCTOR

RELIEVED to have made his decision, Garde settled down to work, knowing happiness at being on somewhat firm ground with Nan. As popular as she was, she would not have called Garde if she didn't like him. And that was a fine start for the project which he had in mind.

He cleared up his morning office list, he made a house call or two, helped Cornel with some emergency surgery and during the afternoon took over two new babies for Rubie; he was also asked to help the obstetrician persuade one of the mothers not to nurse her child. Rubie asked for that help.

"There's a strong history of breast cancer in her family," he stated.

"Can't you just tell her not to do it?"

"No. That's not enough. She may have other children, and another obstetrician—and I feel she should know that the milk factor as an inciter of cancer is determined enough for her to avoid the risk. Ever."

"I'll talk to her," Garde promised. The staff men were gathered for one of their frequent sessions at the end of the day. There was nothing prearranged or formal about these meetings. The doctors had come there to change their clothes before going home, and now they talked.

Rubie was sitting on the coffee table, meticulously dressed, as always. Today he wore a dark blue flannel suit, a pink shirt and a narrow silk tie of pale gray. Cornel on the other extreme, had pulled an ancient corduroy coat over his yellow T-shirt. He was going to play golf. Windsor was struggling with a pullover sweater, and Garde was wearing no more than a bath towel around his hips.

"Get some clothes on, Shelton," Rubie prodded him. "I'll introduce you to the mother, then you'd better go home and take a nap, because I discharged the Kennedy baby today."

Windsor and Cornel groaned. Garde looked at them.

"You won't have to for long boy," Dewey promised. "The Kennedys—you know them?"

"I know her," said Garde calmly. "I've already told her there wasn't a thing to do about the kid's bat ears. I told her they were hereditary, and any taping or tying would only hold 'em down temporarily." He straightened from tying his shoes. "She didn't believe me, but they'll fly out just the same."

"And what will you say to her," asked Rubie, "when she calls you at 12:45 tonight to tell you the baby is crying?"

"And you must come over right away, Doctor!" said Windsor in a high falsetto.

GARDE looked at his friends. "Why, I've worked up a little routine," he said. "For new babies, and especially for new babies of slightly overage parents."

"Yeah," Dewey confirmed. "The Kennedys have been married about 10 years, and this is their first. And about 12:30 tonight..."

"She'll call about two," Garde corrected. "Frankie because the baby's been crying since midnight. But you're right, she'll say I must come right over."

"You goin'?"

"I'll not even get out of bed. The baby went home in fine shape this afternoon."

"All right, Mr. Bones, then what will you do?"

Garde grinned and stuffed in his shirt tail. "It's a simple routine, and so far it has worked. First, I ask, 'What kind of soap do you have in the house?' What ever the brand it is, I ask them to try to get a bar of another kind. That'll take a while, and I shall have told Louise to have Marion whistle a soap stick two inches long and an eighth of an inch in diameter."

"You always have to do four or five because the first few break. Well, then, once they do get a stick the right size the mother is to insert it properly and wait. When it comes out, I've told the mother, if the baby isn't asleep, they're to call me and I'll come right over. Now the Kennedys may be different, but in date I haven't had a second call."

His colleagues regarded him with awe. Cornel tipped out of the room; Windsor silently shook Garde's hand.

HE went with Rubie to see the new mother, and managed to advise her without frightening her; then he returned to his office. Hoping to qualify before too long for a fellowship in the College of Physicians, he was keeping a record on tape of cases as might be useful to him at the time of the board examinations.

He sat down at his desk, snapped on the light and opened the drawer where he kept the recorder. With his arm outstretched to plug the gadget into the receptacle, he was struck with an odd feeling—not new by any means, but tonight especially keen—that he was no longer Garde Shelton, but the man in whose chair he sat, at whose desk he worked. Using Lillard's pen, his books, his office, there had been a slow and steady transposition of character. He still was Garde, but that friendly little session in the doctor's room seemed to have been a strong push to complete the changeover. And markedly tonight there seemed to be not much left of Garde Shelton in this office or in this clinic building where he had followed Kurt's footsteps until they had become his own, where he did the things that other doctor had done, talked as he had talked...

Which was all very well if Garde Shelton wanted to be Kurt Lillard; if he was willing to stop being Garde Shelton.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NE Service)

WHENEVER a telephone rings there is a feeling of anticipation in the minds of most people. We do not know who is calling nor what the message is about until we pick up the receiver. If we are away from our desks or away from home a ringing telephone causes us a bit of alarm.

The telephone reaches out over many miles to make contact with people far and near. It brings people together who might otherwise have no direct contact. This little instrument conveys happiness and sorrow, love and hate, business and pleasure. It is as friendly as the voice at the other end of the wire.

When we pray we make contact with God. We partake of His love, His presence, His guidance, and His peace. We ought to be as alert to God's voice as we are to the ringing of the telephone.

Reflecting record export demand for American coal, dumpings over the Hampton Roads, Va., piers in 1956 rose to 56,032,731 tons, a new high and a gain of 38.6 per cent over the 1955 total of 37,551,963 tons. All three railroads serving Hampton Roads, The Virginian, Norfolk & Western, and the Chesapeake & Ohio, reported sharp gains in coal tonnage transported to that port in 1956.

Illinois to Draft 500 in September

SPRINGFIELD 25.—Illinois' September draft quota is expected to be about 500 men under the Defense Department order slashing the national call for men down to 8,000 men, state Selective Service headquarters said today.

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state Selective Service chief, said Illinois' share of the national quota has been running just over 6 per cent.

This would mean Illinois will have to supply about 500 of the 8,000 men to be called nationally, but the exact figure will not be known for several days, Armstrong said.

Best Year Yet, Weeks Reports

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks predicts this year will be the "best yet" economically for the United States.

But he warned that "inflation must be controlled—the kind of dollars we have is more important than the number of them."

Weeks said Tuesday at a National Press Club luncheon that the Eisenhower administration's record on guarding against inflation is good.

Weeks also said the value of the nation's output of goods and services rose 6 per cent to an annual rate of 431 billion dollars in the first half of the year.

But the Commerce Department said Tuesday night that part of the increase was due to higher prices and did not reflect growth of real economic activity. The department's report also said that personal income jumped to an annual rate of 340 billion dollars—5 1/2 per cent higher than the rate for the first half of 1956.

Consumer buying kept pace with the step-up in income and climbed 5 per cent to an annual rate of 277 billion dollars for the first six months, it said.

Urge Motorists To Replace Peeled License Plates

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The secretary of state's office reported today it has enlisted the help of the state police in a drive to have motorists replace license plates from which the paint has peeled.

State policemen will stop motorists with such plates and ask them to fill out a card requesting replacement of the defective plates.

Large numbers of 1957 Illinois automobile license plates were defective. The manufacturer has agreed to replace the plates, from which paint has peeled, without charge to the state or the motorist.

At first the secretary of state's office made replacement of the plates voluntary on the part of motorists. But now state police will stop motorists with peeled plates and have them fill out cards requesting replacement.

More than 21,000 plates have already been replaced.

At Saline County Fair, Harrisburg, Sunday Night

TOP ROCK 'N ROLLER—PAT KELLY will headline a group of entertainers at the Saline county fair at Harrisburg on the stage in front of the grandstand starting at 8 o'clock p. m. In addition to the Pat Kelly revue, including his Shamrocks and Hazel Lee, vocalist, "The Casuals", the Dot recording unit will appear in four big acts combined in one big show. Pat Kelly and his group offer top tunes of the day in a distinctive style, designed to please swing and sway enthusiasts as well as the regular rock 'n' roll fans.

Pat Kelly received his real training in the playing and singing rock 'n' roll style while touring with some of the great names in the rhythm and blues field including Carl Perkins of "Blue Suede Shoes" fame and Gene Vincent, the leader of the "Blue Caps."

Kelly strums up a storm on his guitar while belting out a slow drag or hep bouncy number.

'No Vacancy' Signs Out at Six New Residence Halls On Southern Campus

CARBONDALE, Ill.—With an other record-breaking fall enrollment ahead, Southern Illinois University already has been forced to erect "No Vacancy" signs at its six new residence halls at Thompson Point.

"All the rooms have been contracted for and waiting lists are growing daily," reported I. Clark Davis, acting director of student affairs.

"We still have vacancies in our temporary buildings, however, and off-campus housing is available," Davis pointed out.

Largest temporary housing area is on the Southern Acres Campus, located 11 miles east of Carbondale near Crab Orchard Lake. Nearly 270 men can be accommodated in two large wooden structures, Davis said. About half the rooms have new furnishings.

"Southern Acres has its own cafeteria and student union and offers a number of recreational advantages," Davis said. "Also, free bus service is provided to the main campus."

This year, for the first time, women students also will be housed at Southern Acres. Five apartments will be made available for 24 women, mainly those attending the Vocational-Technical Institute.

Other temporary housing for men includes the Dowdell area, barracks building convenient to the campus. In use for six years, Dowdell housing will accommodate 208 students. Already filled are Illinois Residence Halls, housing 50 students, and Chataqua Co-ops, accommodating 31.

Davis said four of the new Thompson point residence halls will be occupied by 480 men students and two will house 240 women students. This amounts to only ten percent of the anticipated fall quarter enrollment.

Half the vacancies in each residence hall were reserved for freshmen in order to give new students an equal opportunity for obtaining a room.

Davis advised students who plan to attend SIU this fall and still have not obtained housing to contact William M. Rogge, housing director, Office of Student Affairs. Inquiries regarding off-campus rooms or apartments may be directed to Mrs. Mabel Pulliam at the same office.

ing rooms in the modern, three story buildings overlooking Thompson Lake, he explained.

The same policy was applied at Woody Hall, residence hall for women, which also is filled to its 422 student capacity for the fall quarter.

"Altogether, we will be able to house more than 1,700 students on the campus this year," Davis said. "Even so, student housing will continue to be critical at Southern because of the ever-increasing demand."

Baker Retires After Losing to Eddie Machen

CHICAGO (U)—Bob Baker, a retired prize fighter, today gave an analysis of the No. 2 heavyweight, Eddie Machen.

"He's got to learn to body-punch," Baker said. "If he don't, a lot of guys are going to beat him. They'll slip those punches of his at the head and get inside and somebody'll finish him."

Baker retired today, after he took a 10-round whipping from Machen for the latter's 22nd consecutive victory, preserving his unbeaten record.

"I've always said that when I got a good whipping, I'd quit," Baker said. "I got a good whipping and I'm quitting. I might fight a ham and egg for a good purse, but I'm not going to fight any good boys anymore."

Baker, weighing 214 to 196 for Machen, never threatened in the bout. It was Baker's 11th loss in 59 pro fights covering 11 years.

Rookie Wins 13th Game as Phillies Beat Braves, 3-1; Cards Blank Dodgers, 3-0

By United Press
Jack Sanford, who made it the hard way in contrast to so many of the National League's highly-publicized pitching prodigies, seems sure today to top 'em all by becoming the first rookie to win 20 games for the Philadelphia Phillies in 46 years.

The Phillies haven't had a rookie win 20 games since Grover Cleveland Alexander did it in 1911 but the 27-year-old speedballer from Wellesley, Mass., raised his record to 13-3 Wednesday night with a 3-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The St. Louis Cardinals moved to within a game and a half of the first-place Braves when Larry Jackson shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-0, and the Cincinnati Redlegs were only two games from the top after Joe Nuxhall downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-0. The Chicago Cubs shaded the New York Giants, 2-1, in the other National League game.

No. 14 For Pierce

Billy Pierce scored his 14th victory as the Chicago White Sox kept the American League race "alive" with a 7-2 win over the New York Yankees while the third-place Boston Red Sox kept moving at a brisk pace with a 6-5 decision over the Kansas City Athletics. The Detroit Tigers beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-1, and the Washington Senators scored a 5-4 victory after losing to the Cleveland Indians, 4-3, in other AL activity.

Sanford, who took 10 years to reach the majors, struck out eight Braves to raise his league-leading total to 124. He also delivered the game-winning blow when he doubled home Willie Jones in the seventh inning. He yielded the Braves' run in the bottom of the frame when Wes Covington homered.

Jackson turned in his 11th win for the Cardinals with a nifty three-hitter, striking out eight. Del Ennis doubled home the Cardinals' first run and Al Dark scored the other runs after his two triples. Sal Maglie was the loser.

Nuxhall pitched an eight-hitter for the Redlegs who scored both their runs against Bob Friend in the third inning on singles by Johnny Temple, Gus Bell and Frank Robinson plus an error by outfielder Bob Clemente. The loss was Friend's 13th against eleven wins.

Don Elston's seven-hitter enabled the Cubs to beat the Giants for the second straight game and handed Johnny Antonelli his 10th setback. Jim Bolger's fifth-inning sacrifice fly brought in the decisive run.

Yank Hurlers Pounded

Pierce remained the majors' biggest winner with a seven-hitter as the White Sox cut the Yanks' first-place lead to 4 1/2 games with the help of four straight hits by Luis Aparicio. The White Sox kayoed Yankee ace Whitey Ford in 2-1-3

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Patterson—Champion or Club Fighter?

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Not even the most pickered long-shot stabber could pick Hurricane Tommy Jackson to win the heavyweight championship from Floyd Patterson at the Polo Grounds on July 29.

This despite the fact that young Patterson took nothing more than a debatable and divided 12-round decision from Nature Boy as recently as 13 months ago.

Ordinarily, on the strength of such a strong showing, a fighter other than Jackson would be given at least some semblance of a chance in a second edition. The difference here is that Patterson would have to fall from exhaustion toward the end of the 15 rounds, and the Brooklyn kid appears too well equipped to do anything like that.

The only excuse for the fight, outside of the display of raw savagery, is to find out how much Patterson has improved. If Floyd is now believing all the great things they are saying about him on the heels of his knockout of old Archie Moore, he should take Jackson out along about the 10th heat.

There is a way to batter down any fighter and, if we have not seen Patterson's training moves in a distorted light, he figures to do this with a body attack.

Clubbing Jackson about the head gets you nowhere. So the Patterson who got ready at Greenwood Lake was a fast-fisted youngster who fired volley after volley at the midsection with alarming speed.

THE FIGHT AT LEAST will reveal whether Patterson is a genuine champion or just another pleasing club fighter.

There is no comparison in the combatants as far as tools of the trade are concerned.

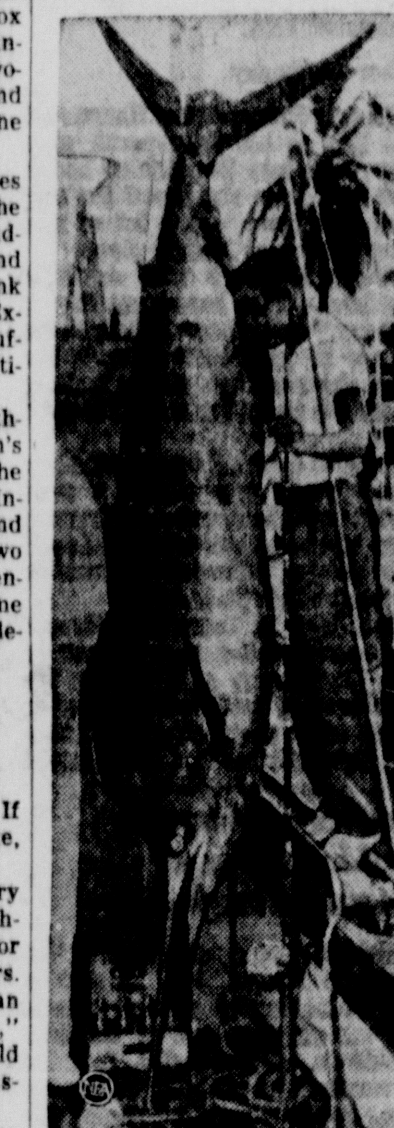

Jackson is scorned by the intelligentsia because The Animal doesn't know how to fight at all. But prize fighting is a basic. It's a

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

The July issue of the "Letter men's Letter," published by the "I" Men's Association has a lengthy article discussing the University of Illinois football prospects for this fall.

Three southern Illinois players are given mention in the article. Promising newcomers among the quarterback candidates include sophomore Russ Martin of Carbondale.

Joe Wendryhoski of West Frank-fort is listed among the "most promising" sophomore candidates for center.

In discussing the guard positions the article says "Lindell Lovellette, Eldorado, another top newcomer, missed most of spring practice because of injury, but will get a thorough test in September."

Ray Eliot, head coach, is quoted as saying "It is my hope that Illinois will field an improved football team in 1957."

Hayes Jones, 18-year-old Eastern Michigan College sophomore, has returned to the United States following a successful tour of France and Switzerland as a member of a ten-member track and field team. Jones was unbeaten in the 110 meter high hurdles, was a member of the all-winning relay team and participated with considerable success in other events.

Eastern Michigan is a member of the IIAAC, which also includes Southern Illinois university in its membership.

Several members of the fine Benton football team of last season plan to attend college this fall, according to Egyptian Sports Review, feature of the Benton Evening News sports page.

Mervyn Spillman, bruising end, will attend Arkansas State on a football scholarship.

Tom Kays, first reported going to Arkansas, now appears to be favoring Southeast Missouri at Cape Girardeau.

Pete Ross and Dick Simpson are going to Vanderbilt and Jim West to Eastern Illinois.

Don Mace probably will enroll at SIU.

Bob Graeff, former Murphysboro high school and University of Illinois footballer has been hired as grade school coach at Murphysboro. He coached one year at Shawnee.

A bust of Longfellow was placed in the Poet's Corner of Westminster Abbey. No other American poet has been so honored.

5 out of 10 smaller cars wear a Pontiac price tag —yet none gives you any of Pontiac's advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR!

Not one of the smaller cars can give you the heavy-duty construction, the road-hugging heft and solid security that surround you in every Pontiac. Yet Pontiac's the nimblest heavyweight you ever managed—and your Pontiac dealer can show you more than six dozen advanced-engineering reasons why! Pontiac has gone all out to make this genuine big car the best behaved beauty that you ever had the pleasure of bossing. You'll find Pontiac's exclusive Precision-Touch Controls make steering and braking the surest, easiest you've ever experienced! Park it, cruise it, try it in stop-and-go traffic . . . this is driving the smaller jobs can't duplicate.

PONTIAC GIVES YOU 4 TO 7 INCHES MORE WHEELBASE!

The small cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big—but Pontiac puts the extra length where it counts—between the wheels! Pontiac's longer stride brackets the bumps instead of riding on them. And this extra length shows up inside, too, in stretch-out space for six footers. Add to Pontiac's bonus in length its all-new suspension system and you have an exclusive Level-Line Ride no car at any price can surpass . . . and a built-in sense of direction and security that will spoil you for the smaller cars forever!

PONTIAC'S PERFORMANCE TOPS THE BEST THE SMALL CARS CAN OFFER—BY A WIDE MARGIN!

Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete facts-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!

Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac . . . there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now!

So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

NOW! If you want the ultimate in both economy and extraordinary performance, now Tri-Power Carburetion is available at extra cost on even the lowest priced Pontiac models! It's America's newest power advance and exclusively Pontiac's at so low a cost!

First Aid Reports

Louie Beltz, chairman of first aid and water safety, reported 10 Boy Scouts and 31 Junior high students had been certified in junior first aid, taught by Geneva Altire, Joe Hollingsworth and Louie Beltz. Eighteen adults were certified in standard first aid, taught by Mrs. Altire. At present, there are 28 Red Cross first aid instructors, 55 certified in junior first aid, 46 adults certified in standard first aid, 330 high school students certified in standard first aid, and 14 certified in advanced first aid.

In water safety, Mr. Beltz reported classes were taught by Jack Klein and Jim Durham. Seven instructors were qualified by Jack Borders, Water Safety Representative from the Midwestern Area office of the National Red Cross. Eleven were qualified in senior life saving and six in junior life saving. There are 11 currently authorized instructors in Saline county and six of them are available to teach.

There are three life saving classes now being taught by the following instructors: Mike Bacon, Jim Durham, John C. Wilson, Judy Bell and Charles Polk. Cline Towle, Johnny Gregg and Mickey Muggie are serving as water safety aides. Twenty-five are enrolled in the junior and senior life saving classes. Eighteen are currently authorized in senior life saving and five in junior life saving.

Mrs. Nelle Meyers, home service chairman, reported 219 active service cases, two veterans and two civilians, were given services such as emergency leave verifications, reporting for military, Veterans Administration, servicemen, veterans and their families, assistance in obtaining allotments or other government benefits, and financial assistance from chapter funds; 283 active service and 10 civilians were given information or limited service for a total of 516 given service.

Blood, Fund Reports

Mrs. B. E. Montgomery gave the report on the blood program for Russell Malan, county blood program chairman. Six hundred sixty-seven pints of blood were used in Saline county hospitals and blood was replaced in other hospitals for 43 patients who were residents of the county. A total of 529 pints of blood was donated in Saline county.

Dick Davenport, chapter treasurer, reported a balance in the general fund at the end of the fiscal year of $38.71 plus the chapter's part of the fund drive which was $2,655.76, making a total of $2,694.47 for operation of the chapter for the next 12 months. This means the chapter will have to operate on a very limited budget.

The chapter has a balance of $1,517.17 in the Saline county blood program account and has outstanding pledges of $1,023.50, making a total, when the pledges are received, of $2,540.67. The chapter owes the St. Louis Regional Blood Center $2,335.54 for its share of the center operation for last year. When this account is paid, there will be a balance in the blood program account of $205.13 to apply on the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957. The blood program is supported by special contributions. The cost to the chapter for the present year will be $2,005.20. It is hoped that eventually the residents of Saline county will realize the value of this program and support it in the general fund drive so special contributions will not have to be made.

The chapter received a check for $50.00 from the Davenport Carpet & Furniture store in addition to its regular fund drive contribution.

British RAF Planes Blast Rebel Fortress

SHARJA, Trucial Oman, (AP) — Royal Air Force jets struck with rockets and cannonfire today at the deserted rebel fortress at Nizwa, nerve center of the tribal rebellion in this Persian Gulf sultanate.

Other RAF planes from Bahrain and Aden blasted rebel concentrations in the mountainous hinterland in the second day of air strikes against rebel forces seeking to overthrow the pro-British Sultan of Muscat and Oman.

In London, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said Britain will make "necessary forces" available to combat the revolt. Although he gave no details, it appeared from the tone of his statement that the reinforcements might include ground troops as well as air units. Two companies of Cameronian Highlanders already have been flown from Kenya to Bahrain increasing the number of British troops in the Persian Gulf area to around 1,250 men.

The RAF planes warned the rebels in advance by dropping leaflets on today's targets and the rebels themselves took to the hills. The white flag of the insurrectionists still fluttered from the mud brick fort at Nizwa as the planes came in low.

The white flag was the Imam's personal flag—not a flag of truce or surrender. But his men already had fled the 50-foot high, cylindrical, dirty yellow fort standing in a dry river bed in the center of Nizwa. Residents of the town of 2,000 also had fled.

The rebels are led by the Imam (religious leader) of Oman, Ghaled Bin Ali, and his strongman brother, Talib. They have declared a "jihad" or religious war against the pro-British Sultan and have captured strategic mountainous ground around the provincial capital of Nizwa which was once the capital of Oman.

About Town And Country

This was the wrong landmark for a fledgling like me to see at this time so I plunged into a new magazine that I had.

Several minutes later, I decided that it was safe enough for me to loosen my safety belt. This conclusion was reached mainly because a four-year-old across the way was fearlessly running to and fro in the aisle.

I slowly but surely acquired faith in our plane and decided that I had better turn my attention to our crew to see if they knew what they were doing.

The ship's captain was William Hubber originally from Texas and the pilot was Wayne Hodel of New York. I was invited to ride in the cockpit with them from Nashville to Chattanooga and they explained all the dials, levers, wheels, wires and the like to me.

It didn't take long for them to thoroughly convince me that they knew their job from A to Z. So I laid aside my magazine and decided it was time to enjoy my trip.

It was in the next few minutes that I became a flying convert. I became convinced that this was it, this was the only way to travel.

The weather man cooperated to the fullest. The night was perfect. It was calm and peaceful and the most beautiful moon ever made observation as clear as day. Our plane traveling 6,000 feet at 190 miles per hour actually cast a shadow on the ground.

I was seeing common place things from a new perspective. Friendly farm houses amid beautiful fields and groves of trees; a drive-in movie featuring a western feature; neat, tidy towns arranged in perfect geometric patterns.

I could even see just where bulbs were burned out in rows of street lights in the towns as they appeared dark in the regular sequence.

About the only things that I did dislike on my flight, were the steep turns immediately before or after take-offs which gave me a view of more than my share of land and the sparks that now and then poured from the engines.

But all it, all my first flight served its purpose in converting me to air travel. I may still get troubled by air sickness in the future but the difference will be that I know it will be worth it.

I thank Captain Hubber, Pilot Hodel and Flight Attendant Milligan for taking an interest in me, in showing me the plane and in making my first flight such an enjoyable experience. Eastern Airlines are lucky to have them on their payroll.

Nuclear Blast From Balloon

ATOP ANGELS' PEAK, Nevada (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission touched off the 10th nuclear explosion of its 1957 summer test series at 8:30 a. m. e.d.t. today from a captive balloon, anchored 500 feet above the Nevada proving grounds. The blast was so bright it made the morning sun appear to dim by comparison. Its fireball lasted for approximately 10 seconds and the familiar mushroom pattern following the blast rose quickly.

Recommend Brothers Be Held for Grand Jury

and seeing Ray coming with the gun and then firing it at York. He said he did not believe that the other brother, Robert, showed up at the scene until after the shooting.

The lad testified that he had come to his home with Ray and his wife, that he had been to Carmi with them. He said that he did not hear Ray say anything about going to shoot Vinson York, that the only thing he heard was his inquiring about the gun.

Ray's wife, Leona, said she heard the fatal shot while in the kitchen but did not know what happened. Ray came in after the shooting, she said, telling her "Let's go home."

Gives Up to Officers

They drove home, she said, then walked to an unoccupied neighbor's house to spend the night "because the mosquitoes were bad at our places."

Next morning, she said, two other brothers came to where they were staying, told them that York was dead, and took Ray to Shawneetown with them, where he gave up to officers. Hallas and Robert had been arrested earlier.

Mrs. Mable Mobley of New Haven told of Ray coming to her house about 5:30 p. m. and borrowing a double-barrelled shotgun "because he might see a squirrel on the road on the way home."

Robert Mobley, in a sworn statement, said Bob Mears returned the shotgun that evening "wrapped in a green sheet" and said Bob told him that York had been shot by Ray. He said he put the gun in a closet.

"He drove up in Hallas' car," the statement said.

Other Testimony

Liberty Price of New Haven said she was on her front porch when Ray went into the Mobley house. She said later she heard the shot and that there was a lot of running around at Hallas' place.

She said Ray's wife drove to the back of the house, got Ray in the car, and when she turned the corner he wasn't sitting up." She said she saw Bob Mears walking down the street toward Hallas' before the shot.

Several testified that York about three weeks ago signed a complaint at Shawneetown charging Ray Mears with drunken and reckless driving following an incident in front of his place.

Dr. John E. Doyle of Ridgway, who performed a post-mortem on the York body, said it was his opinion that York hemorrhaged to death when shot that entered near the right eye severed an artery.

Explosion Rips Hole in Plane; Man is Missing

GEORGE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An explosion ripped a four-by-seven-foot hole in a Western Air Lines plane today. A passenger was missing and presumed to have been blown out of the craft.

The airline said pilot Capt. Milt Shirk, Los Angeles, radioed at 7:37 a. m. e.d.t. that he had declared an emergency existed aboard the Convair-240 because a rear window had blown out.

Two minutes later he reported that a large hole had been blown in the airplane while flying at 10,000 feet. Shirk landed at this Air Force base where military authorities took charge.

Twelve persons were listed on the passenger manifest of flight 39 when the plane left Las Vegas, Nev. Only 11 were counted when the plane made its emergency landing here.

Three passengers said they had seen a man identified as S. F. Binstock, of North Hollywood, Calif., enter the plane's lavatory shortly after takeoff. They said they never saw him leave the cubicle.

The section ripped out of the plane was at the lavatory.

Railway Express Asks Rate Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Railway Express Agency has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for a nationwide 15 per cent general increase in express rates.

The agency told the commission that the 11 per cent hike authorized by the ICC last month for shipments in the East had failed to offset the agency's increasing annual deficit. It also noted that agency workers are slated to get a 7 per cent an hour wage increase on Nov. 1.

In the last five years, the ICC has authorized express rate increases totaling 37 per cent.

Safecrackers Use Fan to Disperse Tear Gas Fumes

TEUTOPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—Safecrackers used a fan to disperse fumes from a tear gas bomb inside a safe Wednesday night and at nearby Effingham a decoy phone call was used during a drug store narcotics burglary.

Authorities said the two lootings and the pilfering of a harness shop at Teutopolis "look like the work of professionals." Effingham Police Chief Cletus Lamb said he believed the same group pulled all three jobs.

The safecrackers took $993 from the Weber's hardware store after entering through a rear window and chiseling off the safe's combination. A tear gas bomb inside the safe went off, but the enterprising thieves used a fan to clear the fumes. They left checks and a cash bag.

At Effingham, a decoy phone call reporting a prowler sent police to investigate, leaving the way clear for a break-in at the Leo Craig drug store on the main street.

Authorities said "hundreds of dollars worth" of narcotics, cameras, cigaret lighters, barometers and watches were taken.

House All But Gives Up On School Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—House supporters of the federal school construction bill all but tossed in the towel today.

A few House Republicans sought to get to President Eisenhower to tell him that only a strong last-minute plea by him could save the $1,500,000,000 compromise measure.

But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he knew of no plans by Eisenhower to issue such a special appeal before the vote on the bill expected by tonight.

Hagerty repeated his previous statements that "the President wants a school bill. He disagrees on some of the details of the pending bill but it is acceptable to him." Even the most optimistic vote estimate still shows 30 or more votes would be needed for passage. A similar bill was killed last year.

Dismiss Suit Against A&P

CHICAGO (AP)—Federal Judge William J. Campbell today dismissed a three-million-dollar antitrust suit against the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., its subsidiary, Woman's Day magazine, and three other defendants.

The suit, filed March 2, 1956, charged the A&P the magazine, the General Foods Corp., the Hunt Food Co., and the Morton Salt Co., with violating the antitrust provisions of the Clayton Act by distributing the magazine in A&P stores.

The suit charged A&P has been enabled through the advertising placed in the magazine by the two food firms and the Morton company, to build up a "captive audience" of women customers.

Conviction Thrown Out

Airman is Back on Job

TOKYO (UP)—The Air Force today threw out Airman Donald Wheeler's court-martial conviction for refusal to get a "white sidewall" haircut and ordered him returned to duty.

But the unrepentant Wheeler said he still wouldn't get any haircut that made him "look like a jackass."

Col. Charles W. Johnstone, commander of the 6000th Support Wing at the U. S. Fuchu Air Base, said he ordered Wheeler's release after finding "certain cumulative errors and procedural irregularities in the trial" and after a talk with the young airman.

He said no new trial would be ordered and added:

"I am convinced that he has undergone a considerable change in attitude."

Despite his continued defiance of the "white sidewall" order, Wheeler also thought his attitude had changed.

"I spent four days in the stockade," he told a reporter. "Your attitude would probably change, too."

He said that during his man-to-man talk with the colonel, "I agreed to be a respectable airman—one of the best in Fuchu."

He said he would get a regulation haircut Friday, but not the white sidewall kind.

However, along with Wheeler's release, the United Nations-U. S. Far East Command disclosed that the white sidewall was a thing of the past.

The haircut disappeared with the dissolving of the tri-service honor guard of command headquarters.

A spokesman for the Far East command said "the honor guard is dissolved and there is no more requirement for this special type haircut."

For his refusal to get the haircut, Wheeler drew a sentence of four months imprisonment, a $200 fine and reduction in rank. The haircut featured an Apache Indian-type cut with closely trimmed sides and a fringe on top.

Wheeler said the order to release him came as "quite a surprise."

He told newsmen "I'm glad it's over with. I want to forget all about it."

Air Force press officers said they thought the fact that the trial had dragged out with some of the original judges being replaced before the trial had concluded had been some of the irregularities noted by Johnstone.

Bob Evans is Enthusiastic About
First Plane Trip

NOTE BY TIMMO: Bob Evans, formerly of Eldorado and more recently of McLeansboro where he managed the McLeansboro Times-Leader and who is leaving soon to enter the public relations department of the University of Illinois, recently took a plane ride. And before we go further, he got back.

Bob took the plane to Dillon, S. C., to attend the wedding of his sister-in-law after his wife and children preceded him by car. He returned with his family.

The plane ride was Bob's first, and here is what he had to say about it:

Last Saturday, I observed my 35th birthday.

Just two days before that I gained a brand-new experience. I took my very first plane ride on a trip from Evansville to Charlotte, North Carolina.

Quite frankly, I had misgivings about my first flight. Not because I was afraid that the plane would crash (though I suppose any trip by land, sea or air is preceded by some thoughts of accidents) but because I suffer motion sickness.

En route to and from overseas stations during the war, I nearly died from sea sickness so I have often avoided flying because I feared air sickness.

Immediately upon entering the plane (which was an Eastern Air Lines Silver Falcon 440 with two engines and seats for 40 passengers), I informed the flight attendant, Miss Dutchie Milligan of Orlando, Fla., that I expected to be sick and what should I do.

She very kindly showed me the handy cups, containers and the way to the rest rooms. But she also disagreed with my belief that I would be sick pointing out that the weather was ideal for flying. I declined her offer of pills because I wanted to learn if I would get sick or not.

As we prepared for the flight, I used the time to good advantage in inspecting this vehicle which would soon be sailing through the thin air some miles above the earth containing the most precious cargo in the world—me.

I especially, was observant as we sat on the end of the runway with the plane shaking with vibrations from the powerful motors that were roaring with all their power. As I looked at the shiny long aluminum wing spread out underneath me, I could visualize some aircraft worker with an early bowling date or suffering from a crippling hangover of the night before as he carelessly applied rivets and negligently omitted necessary parts to hold the thing together.

Then the plane started racing down the runway and literally leaped into the air. My ears began to pop and we suddenly seemed to be standing still but one look out and down from the window discredited this belief.

It was nearing dusk as we took off and the beautifully plowed fields stretched out beneath us and the river and neat roadways cut attractive patterns.

Then we passed over a cemetery.

A $1,000 CHECK is the object of their attention. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Boren, 507 South McKinley, carefully examine a check for $1,000 received Wednesday, prize money for winning the St. Louis Post-Dispatch crossword quiz last week. Mrs. Boren, the former Miss Elaine Whiteside, was officially the winner of the contest, but declared it was a "family affair" as Phillip gave plenty of assistance in coming up with the correct answers. Although they had participated in other contests, this was their first Post Dispatch entry. When asked what their plans were for using the money, they revealed Phillip would enter the University of Illinois medical school in Chicago in September and the $1,000 would go toward the expenses of living in the big city and going to college. Murphysboro Reporter Says He

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (UP)—A young, red-haired newspaper reporter, victim of an unmerciful beating, said today he could think of no reason for the "cowardly attack."

Robert McClure, 25, a reporter in the Murphysboro bureau of the Southern Illinois newspaper of Carbondale, Ill., was kicked and beaten into unconsciousness on Wednesday shortly after leaving a tavern.

He lay along U. S. 51 for three and one-half hours before recovering consciousness and crawling to a farmhouse for aid. Authorities rushed him to Murphysboro Hospital where he was placed in an oxygen tent, and later released after treatment.

In recent months, McClure has written stories about the sale of liquor to minors, the mysterious death of a Sparta, Ill., businessman and questionable road and bridge contracts.

The liquor-to-minor sale story involved the tavern McClure visited Tuesday night. However, the newsman said he and Gene Hines, owner of the tavern, were good friends. McClure said he did not think anyone in the tavern with him that night was involved.

McClure's mother revealed she had received a series of threatening telephs he calls the latest one Sunday in which the caller warned she'd better keep her son "off my back." However, Mrs. McClure said she didn't place too much stock in the telephone threats.

McClure said his mother didn't tell him about the calls until Wednesday after the beating "because she didn't want to worry me."

McClure said his glasses were knocked off, one eye closed, one

Humphrey to Retire Monday

WASHINGTON (UP)—George Magoffin Humphrey will hang up his homburg next Monday as Treasury secretary.

Behind him he leaves the prospect of a third straight balanced budget—the first time this three-in-a-row feat has been accomplished since the great depression of the 1930's.

During his regime the national debt was reduced by two billion dollars to 272 billion dollars.

He also leaves some hot controversies over his policies—notably the celebrated "tight money" situation and the high interest rate the government has been paying lately on its own securities.

Ahead of the Cleveland industrialist is another tour of duty in big business, this time as board chairman of National Steel Corp., Pittsburgh.

The White House announced that Humphrey will depart next Monday. His resignation was announced in May. His successor, former Deputy Defense Director Robert B. Anderson, will be sworn in the same day at 11 a. m. e.d.t. in President Eisenhower's office.

David B. Edwards,
78, Dies; Rites
Sunday at 2 p. m.

David B. Edwards, 78, whose home was at 927 Barnett street, Harrisburg, died at the Lightner hospital at 3:30 a. m. today. He had been in failing health for two years, had been ill for about a week and was in the hospital for three days.

Born in Benton, son of the late Hestia and Mary Gunter Edwards, Mr. Edwards leaves his wife, Hattie, and the following children: Mrs. Verdelia Bramlett, Steelville; Mrs. Ora Fletcher, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Mary Margaret Harris, Girard; and Mrs. Beverly Reed, Harrisburg; seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. His brother, Phillip Edwards of Marion, survives and he was preceded in death by a son and daughter, Kenneth and Glennie Edwards.

Mr. Edwards was a member of the First Baptist Mission, was a retired miner and last worked at O'Gara No. 12.

The body will lie in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home and the funeral will be held there at 2 p. m. Sunday, with Rev. Waldo Shelton officiating.

Dixie Foes Score Victory

Sen. Johnson Predicts Rights
Bill With Jury Trial Amendment

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said today there is a "good chance" the Senate within two weeks will approve a civil rights bill with a jury trial amendment.

It would be essentially a voting rights bill.

The Senate headed into the jury trial issue after stripping the bill of a heavily-disputed provision that would have given the attorney general broad injunctive powers to enforce constitutional rights generally.

Dixie foes of the bill scored a crucial victory when the Senate Wednesday voted 52-38 to kill the bulk of the disputed section—Part III of the administration's four-point rights bill.

Foes of the bill claimed President Eisenhower had repudiated Part III at his news conference last week. Supporters pointed out the President had said previously he wanted the bill passed without crippling amendments.

Eisenhower had no immediate comment. Both he and his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, were out playing golf when the Senate acted.

Eighteen Republicans joined 34 Democrats in voting for the bipartisan amendment to strike the section. Twenty-five Republicans and 13 Democrats voted against the amendment, offered by Sens. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.).

This left the bill, which has been approved by the House, with three main provisions. They would (1) create a bipartisan commission on civil rights, (2) provide for a new assistant attorney general for civil rights (3) authorize the attorney general to seek injunctions or other civil court action to halt violations or threatened violations of Negro voting rights.

At Annual Meeting

Allen Murphy Is Honored for 40
Years Service On Red Cross Board

Allen Murphy of Eldorado was honored at the annual meeting of the Saline County chapter of American Red Cross, held Monday night at the Harrisburg National bank, for his 40 years of service as an active board member. He was presented with a 40-year pin and certificate by the chapter, which were accepted for Mr. Murphy by John Murphy as he could not be present at the meeting.

Mr. Murphy helped organize the Eldorado branch chapter and has served as chairman of the Eldorado branch, also as secretary-treasurer, and has been active in fund drives and home service since World War I. He has served continuously as an active member of the Saline County chapter since 1917.

At the board meeting John Murphy was elected chairman of the board of directors, Mrs. Nelle Meyers, vice chairman; Mrs. Eugene Morris, secretary; and Richard Davenport, treasurer.

Services chairman made the following reports for the past year, covering the period from July 1, 1956, through June 30, 1957:

John Murphy, Junior Red Cross chairman, reported 25 schools were enrolled in Junior Red Cross and 105 Junior Red Cross gift boxes were filled by the school children in Saline county.

In the nursing service program six have been certified in mother and baby care, taught by Mrs. Mabel G. Burton, and 21 Junior high students were certified in home care of the sick, taught by Mrs. Ethel Mathias. Mrs. John Humm served as enrollment nurse.

Ernest Duncan, disaster chairman, reported $1,863.17 spent in Saline county for disaster by the national organization. Saline county residents donated $197.05 to Hungarian relief. Mrs. Scerial Thompson served as disaster nurse.

Mrs. Warren Tuttle, vice chairman of volunteers, reported 668 volunteers served the chapter last year. In the blood program 13 doc-

Under the voting rights provision U. S. district judges could jail—without jury trial—persons held in contempt for disregarding injunctions.

Southern opponents have centered their fire against the bill on Part III and the lack of a jury trial guarantee in the voting rights section.

A vote on a jury trial amendment is not expected before next Monday or Tuesday.

Evangelist Hits
Sin of 'Pride'

NEW YORK (UP)—Billy Graham said Wednesday night that he has found it "more difficult to bring a proud man to Christ than it is to win a drunkard, an adulterer or a narcotics addict."

The evangelist told a Madison Square Garden audience of 14,500 persons that "the sin of pride" afflicts thousands of Americans today and "we're proud and selfish as a people and as individuals."

"I'm the sin of all of us," Graham said, "the sin of ego. We have 'I' trouble and it's not related to sight. We don't believe the truth, that pride is hateful to God. Yet God says no proud man shall enter the kingdom of heaven."

"You don't come to God in pride, but in humility—that's the reason I ask you to come forward here to make your decision for Christ—to show humility."

As of Wednesday night, 1,232,100 persons have heard Graham since he began his New York Crusade May 15. The 349 persons who recorded "decisions for Christ" brought that total to 37,811.

Williams Told
To Have Counsel
In Court Aug. 16

City Commissioner Don Williams is scheduled to appear with a new attorney in circuit court Aug. 16 in the quo warranto proceedings which seek to remove him from city office.

Atty. Lloyd H. Melton, attorney for the plaintiffs in the case in which Mayor Claud Gibbons and Commissioner Morris Darnell have filed quo warranto proceedings to remove Williams on grounds he has moved outside the city, this week filed a petition to require Williams to name his attorney of record and to set the case for trial.

The petition charged the defendant with every means of delaying the action.

Williams appeared in his own behalf before Judge Wright and pointed out that his attorney, Scerial Thompson, had been buried only one week and that he was consulting with a lawyer with the idea in mind of securing him for his counsel.

Circuit Judge C. E. Wright of Carbondale then set Aug. 16—the next regular default day—as the time that Williams should be in court with new counsel.

Judge Wright this morning appointed legal counsels for two McCard prison inmates who are seeking release on habeas corpus petitions.

He appointed Arlie O. Boswell to represent James Ryan, sentenced for the murder of Samuel Black. Ryan's case has been brought up a number of times. Appointed to represent Clifford Bradley, serving a term for burglary and larceny, was Atty. Lester Lightfoot.

In a suit over oil royalty, Judge Wright ruled in favor of plaintiffs Oliver and Roger Williams in their suit for a 1-32nd override on land in Tate township. The Sohio Pipeline Co. had been named the defendant in the action.

Two divorces were granted. Bess B. Buermann of Eldorado was granted a divorce from George B. Buermann and her former name, Bess B. Adams, was restored. Alton Rollins of Carrier Mills was granted a divorce from Chester Rollins.

Red Skelton Patches Up Squabble
Which Cut Short European Tour

BARCELONA, Spain (UP)—Comedian Red Skelton was reported today to have patched up the squabble with his red-haired wife which cut short the European tour they were making for their leukemia-stricken son.

Skelton left Rome in a huff Wednesday night with his wife, Gloria, their daughter Valentina, 10, and their 9-year-old son, Richard, who is suffering from leukemia. But they left their New York-bound plane in Barcelona and checked into a hotel.

They refused to see newsmen, but members of the hotel staff said Skelton told them he planned to stay here two days then go on to Paris, London and Dublin.

There was no immediate indication the Skeltons' visit to Spain was connected with the offer made by a world-famous Spanish doctor to examine Richard and see if a cure is possible.

United Press correspondent Larry Collins was present when the family squabble began in Rome.

Skelton wanted to make the rest of the European trip in the blue bus he had bought for $2,400.

Mrs. Skelton was afraid of his driving on the twisting, narrow European roads and living off the beaten track in a foreign country.

Richard said in the car going to the airport, "Gee, I wish we weren't going back, but that's the way it goes."

Valentina was anxious to return home. She was afraid her French poodle would transfer its affections to the maid who is looking after it.

Inquest Held
In Slaying of
New Haven Man

Testimony by Four
Witnesses Claim Ray
Mears Did Shooting

A Gallatin county coroner's jury Wednesday night recommended that the three Mears brothers of New Haven community be held for grand jury action in the shotgun killing of 74-year-old Vinson York at York's New Haven home.

Coroner Charley Cox of Ridgeway conducted the inquest in the Gallatin circuit court room at Shawneetown, assisted by State's Attorney Alton Greer and Sheriff Millard Holloway.

There was testimony from eight witnesses and the reading of sworn statements by two others before the jury retired, to return with the verdict which said that the elderly man died July 19 of gunshot wounds inflicted by Ray Mears, Hallas Mears and Robert Mears and recommended that they be held to await action of the Gallatin county circuit court grand jury.

Preliminary Hearing Monday

The preliminary hearing in the case, in which the three brothers have been held on murder warrants, is scheduled for 10 a. m. Monday at Shawneetown before Justice of the Peace W. L. Sanders.

The inquest, which lasted almost three hours, brought out testimony from four witnesses that Ray Mears, 26-year-old resident of a rural area seven miles from New Haven in White county, did the shooting. Hallas is 35 and Robert 23.

Paul Edward Mears, 13-year-old son of Hallas, told of being outside with his father when Ray walked toward the York home nearby where York was on the porch peeling potatoes. He testified that he heard nothing said but that Ray fired one shot at York.

Clarence (Bud) Thompson, also a neighbor, testified York walked to his house after the shooting, sat on his porch and called for him to come out.

Wives Testify

"He said he thought that Ray Mears did the shooting," Thompson said.

Henry Sparrow of New Haven, who said he and York had been friends for more than fifty years, testified that he saw York "in Bud's yard, bloody all over, and he told me that 'Ray Mears shot me.'"

When asked if he had ever known of York getting into trouble, he said that York had been in the penitentiary about 35 years ago, but didn't know the reason he was sent.

The wives of two of the held men, Mary, wife of Hallas, and Leona, wife of Ray, testified, but some of their testimony was vague.

Mary said that Ray and Leona came to their house between 5:30 and 6 p. m., that Ray began hunting for his shotgun. She said that Hallas hid the gun in the attic while she was fixing supper.

She said Ray didn't say a word but left by the way of the front door and a few minutes later a shot was fired. She said she was fixing supper and didn't know much of what happened but that Ray came back in the house and left with his wife. He made no statements to her after the incident, she said.

Testimony By Ray

She did testify that her husband jumped up and went out when somebody said "Here comes Ray with a gun," and said she didn't know who fired the shot except somebody said Ray did it.

Paul Edward told of following his father, Hallas, from the house

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON says: Ike's generals in civilian jobs behave too much like generals: General Vogel, head of TVA, behaves like prima donna; skipper of USS Saratoga gives his expense account.

WASHINGTON—When President Eisenhower appoints military men to high office, he seems to have a propensity for appointing the wrong man to the wrong place at the wrong time.

His first military appointee, West Point classmate Gen. Joseph S. Saling as Commissioner of Immigration, became famous for using government automobiles to go hunting in Mexico, using his personal, privileged position to obtain a Mexican maid at low wages, and using government airplanes for political purposes.

On top of this, Gen. Herbert D. Vogel, appointed to be chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, has proved himself a prima donna reminiscent of the days when Washington fought over the question of whether Dolly Gann, half-sister of Vice President Curtis, should be seated at dinner ahead of Alice Roosevelt Longworth, wife of the Speaker.

Invited to attend a dinner by the Junior Order of Mechanics honoring AFL-CIO President George Meany last month, General Vogel refused to go in to the dinner because he wasn't seated at the head table.

General Vogel found himself seated with a group of distinguished industrialists and labor leaders, but this did not please him. He actually threatened to leave.

Finally, it was learned that Congressman Howard Baker of Tennessee would not be able to attend because of a death in his family, and to keep the peace, General Vogel was waltzed up to the speaker's table to take Baker's place.

MORE TVA TROUBLE
Again, the general was invited to a meeting of the Delta Council in Cleveland, Miss. Speakers at the meeting were Harvey Firestone, head of the well-known rubber company of that name, and chief of Army Engineers Maj. Gen. E. C. Itchner.

Once again, when Vogel was not invited to sit at the speaker's rostrum, he refused to attend the meeting.

General Vogel milled around outside, showing his disgust for the activities, then drove back to Knoxville.

On another occasion, President Diem of the friendly country of Viet-Nam, was visiting the Tennessee Valley. General Vogel conducted President Diem on the tour, but, returning back to Knoxville, the general switched the motorcade through residential Knoxville so he could stop off at his home.

The general got off, left the motorcade, sent the president on to his hotel.

It is strict protocol that a foreign visitor be delivered to his destination before the American host leaves the entourage. State Department officials were red-faced, but found it impossible to give orders to the grandstanding general whom Ike appointed head of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Note—Eisenhower now faces trouble with another appointee to the TVA—Arnold R. Jones. Senators probing Jones' background have found that he accepted fees as a lawyer while supposedly serving the people of Kansas on the State Corporation Commission. Since Eisenhower has appointed more conflict-of-interest officials than any other president, it's a safe bet the senators will take a long look at Commissioner Jones before they confirm him.

WASHINGTON WHISPERS

Edward Bennett Williams, who scored Washington's No. 1 legal victory in defending Teamsters' strongman Jimmy Hoffa, slipped over to Teamster union headquarters during the trial to confer with a squad of lawyers. They urged him to take a Negro attorney with him into the court to influence the eight Negro jury members. This was in spite of the fact that the Negro attorney had a strong bias against the Teamsters. Instead, it was arranged for ex-heavyweight champ Joe Louis to visit the courtroom and make a show of his friendship for Hoffa.

FBI boss J. Edgar Hoover was furious over Hoffa's acquittal. This makes the third big headline case the FBI has developed which was lost. Others were Judith Coplon, who allegedly spied for Russia; Johnny Dio, who allegedly ordered the acid-bathing of columnist Victor Riesel; and now Jimmy Hoffa, who allegedly bribed a Senate Rackets investigator. . . . Sen. Bill Knowland was about to yield to southern arguments and kill most of part 3 of the civil rights bill, when he got a call from Negro leaders. They had been to see Vice President Nixon, who stood pat for a strong bill and no compromise on part 3. Knowland and Nixon are political rivals. The greatest goal in American public life—the White House—is before their eyes. Learn-ers of Nixon's stand, Knowland changed his mind, stood pat for a strong part 3. . . . Competition applies to politics as well as business.

PAINTING THE USS SARATOGA

The Navy is now showing congressmen its answer to this column's charge that Capt. Robert Moore spent $65,000 to spruce up

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois Thursday, July 25, 1957

The Navy is telling congressmen that Moore really spent less than $7,000 for paint and tile, also only $1,800 to redecorate a cabin for Ike instead of $3,500 as this column reported.

What the Navy did was order Captain Moore to investigate himself. His report on himself is now being peddled as the Navy's official answer.

However, here are some expenses that Moore overlooked:

First, he counted only paint and tile purchases, after April 1. Yet he began beautifying the ship in February after the first report that Ike might visit the carrier.

Specifically, he spent $1,500 redecorating the quarter-deck. He changed the blue and gold color scheme to green and white.

He also ordered the passageways leading to "flag country" painted black and white. Two days later he changed his mind and ordered them repainted green and white. Eventually he changed his mind again and had them tiled.

All this was done before April 1. Moore's report also doesn't mention other extensive repairs or include a nickel for labor.

Actually the Saratoga was in top condition and didn't need any redecorating.

Captain Moore's report also seems to omit money that he generously spent on his own quarters. He had his own cabin completely refurbished and redecorated, though his predecessor had scarcely used it. He also ordered a sterling silver candelabra for his cabin over the objection of his fiscal officer who protested that it wasn't a proper expense.

The skipper also demanded a portable typewriter with special italic type that had to be ordered directly from the factory for his quarters. Other purchases included a $395 hi-fi set and a $350 desk set with matching wastebasket.

Woodrow Wilson issued the first Mother's Day proclamation in 1915.

Shawmeker-Hurd Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norman Hurd

Miss Anita Louise Shawmeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Shawmeker of Shorewood Beach, Joliet, and Bill Norman Hurd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Hurd of Black Road, Joliet, formerly of Harrisburg and Eldorado, were married June 29 at three in the afternoon. The double-ring wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. James Franz in the Central Joliet Presbyterian church in the Troy community.

The altar of the church, before which the bride and groom exchanged their marriage vows, was decorated with white gladioli and white carnations, backed with tall candles of burning white tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white swiss-embroidered organza wedding gown, fashioned with a molded empire bodice having a scalloped V scooped-neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant ballerina-length skirt of ruffled tiers, was worn over a Dior hoop. Her gauntlets were of matching material. Her seed pearl and rhinestone tulle secured a chapel length veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and Amazon lilies with ivy streamers. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Mary Lynette Hurd, sister of the bridegroom, served as the maid of honor and wore a Nile green embroidered organza dress with a fitted bodice and a draped cowl, forming cap sleeves. Her bouffant ballerina length skirt was worn over hoops. Her hat was of pastel braid straw, styled in a lattice coronet and having a short circular veil. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow roses circled with white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jayne Mulligan and Miss Joyce Hurley, friends of the bride, wore dresses and hats duplicating that of the maid of honor, one in orchid color and the other in yellow. Their bouquets were yellow roses circled with white carnations. The candle lighter, Miss Judith Ann Cunico of Lockport, wore a dress of pink, duplicating the costumes of the bridesmaids.

Robert Highley, Manhattan, Ill., acted as the best man and James Shawmeker Jr., and James Turk of Joliet, were the ushers.

Miss Mary Jane Begun sang, "I Love Your Truly," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied on the organ by Miss Jeanette Sing, who also played the wedding marches.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of white nylon over ice blue taffeta, and an ice blue hat and white accessories.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of sheath design, with brown, white and gold stripes. Her accessories were white.

There was a reception in the parlors of the church immediately following the wedding ceremony. The decorations were of white gladioli and white carnations. There was a tiered wedding cake on the bride's table, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Among the hostesses was Miss Leah Ann Clark, friend of the bride.

The bride couple left, following the reception, for a honeymoon trip through the Southern states.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurd are now at home to their friends at 420 Pontiac street, Joliet, where Mr. Hurd is employed by the Caterpillar Tractor company. He is a graduate of Eldorado Township high school. Mrs. Hurd, a graduate of the Joliet high school, was an employee of the Ben Franklin stores in Joliet.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ferrell, RFD 2, Harrisburg, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Naas, Murphys-

Slumber Party Held For Tennessee Granddaughter

Mrs. Carrie Young, 2 West Lincoln street, Harrisburg, held a slumber party in her home Monday night for her granddaughter, Doris Jean Boatright, who is visiting from Goodlettsville, Tenn.

Attending the party were Sarah Beth Rice, Brenda Martin, Kay Craver, Martha Coker, Nancy Edwards, Belle Turner, Janet Sanders, Sharon Brown and the guest of honor, Doris Jean Boatright.

Doris Jean is visiting with her other grandmother, Mrs. Ola Boatright, while she is in Harrisburg.

Features of the slumber party were midnight refreshments of angel food cake, ice cream and soft drinks, a corn popping session and 9 o'clock breakfast.

Good Neighbors Home Bureau Elects Officers

Mrs. Walter Lewis was hostess Tuesday afternoon at her home north of Raleigh to members of the Good Neighbors unit of Saline County Home Bureau.

Mrs. A. A. Gholson presented the major lesson on the preparation of low calorie foods and she gave samples of recipes she had prepared.

Six girls who are members of a 4-H club led by Mrs. Lowell Tison were present and modeled skirts and blouses they have made as club projects. The girls were Diane Tison, Donna Downey, Pamela Jamerson, Kay Harbison, Hazel Stone and Brenda Rhine.

Mrs. R. L. Rhine, chairman, announced the following officers which have been elected to serve the next club year, beginning in September: Chairman, Mrs. Lowell Tison; vice-chairman, Mrs. Leslie Via; secretary, Mrs. R. L. Rhine; program chairman, Mrs. Phillip Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. Gholson; health chairman, Mrs. Blanche Spurlock, and reporter, Mrs. Hayes Spurlock.

Refreshments of ice cream, strawberries and cookies were served to two guests, Mrs. Carroll Harbison and Mrs. Victor Roberts, and these members, Mrs. Raymond Rhine, Mrs. R. L. Rhine, Mrs. Gholson, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Dallas Tucker, Mrs. Tison and Mrs. Lewis.

It was announced that there will be no regular meeting in August and that the September meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Tucker. At this meeting dues will be payable and new officers will take over.

Don't Be Fooled By Poison Ivy

LANSE, G. Mich. — CUP — Most persons think they can recognize poison ivy, the scourge of summer picnics, but there are some harmless plants that resemble the itchy stuff.

The Michigan State Health Department said the old couplet, "leaflets three, let them be," is one of the best reminders for the summer.

Poison ivy grows as a vine, bush or shrub but the best way to spot it is to watch for three shiny green leaflets.

Virginia creeper is similar in appearance, the department said, but has five leaves and is harmless.

A thorough washing of the part of the body which came in contact with the three shiny leaves is the best method of counteracting its effects. Then a physician should be called immediately.

Glenn Thompson, 21, Harrison, Ky., and Margaret Sue Reinhardt, 18, Henderson, Ky.

Joseph William Miles, 22, and Peggy Lou Wilson, 18, both of Owensboro, Ky.

Richard D. Haire, 22, and Carolyn A. Huff, 19, both of Evansville.

Jerry Wallace Cadick, 35, and Reva E. Phipps, 32, both of Evansville.

Kenneth Leroy Girtlen, 22, and Martha Taylor, 18, both of East St. Louis.

Louis A. Ray, 27, Henderson, Ky., and Marie Van Cleve, 22, Evansville, Ind.

Charles Arthur Durham, 21, and Helen Wayne Barnes, 18, both of Crofton, Ky.

William Joseph Gaddis, 21, and Janice Sue Roach, 18, both of Owensboro, Ky.

Wilton Lee Weikel, 21, Owensboro, Ky., and Sally Marie Randall, 18, Chattanooga, Tenn.

The pitch for a whole orchestra is given by the oboe, which sounds the note A.

AT SALVATION ARMY CAMP—Scenes at the Salvation Army camp at Bourbon, Mo., when the Harrisburg delegation of boys and girls were present. Harrisburg had the largest delegation at the camp, nine taking music and three Bible. With L. Mildred Wallace of the local corps one of the instructors of vocal music. Special awards were given for the top students in each band, vocal group and Bible class and the top Bible student was Hilda Brasher, from Harrisburg, who won a ten-day scholarship to the Salvation Army's Territorial Leadership Institute at Camp Lake Wisconsin. She will meet with students from 11 Central states July 23-Aug. 1. Another Harrisburg student, Eddie Estes, won second place medal

Marion Girl to Step Down as President of Girls' Nation

By Sam Hancock
United Press Staff Correspondent
MARION, ILL. (UP)—At the age of 18, Ann Morgan already is an "elder statesman."
She has been president of Girls' Nation, U.S.A., this year and she's leaving office with definite notions about teen-agers.
Ann says that she believes that 18-year-olds are not ready to be given the vote and that Elvis Presley is just a passing thing.
Ann steps down from her high post when the 11th annual convention of the citizenship training group sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary convenes at the University of Maryland July 27.
On hand will be delegates from 47 states, the District of Columbia and the Panama Canal Zone. However, Ann will not attend.
Ann was elected president of Illinois Girls' State in 1956, the year before she moved up to become her home state's first president of Girls' Nation.
Confidence in Teens
Democracy and citizenship training have found an able champion in the chief of Girls' Nation. She has traveled 14,000 miles, made a hundred speeches and several television and radio appearances on their behalf.
The Illinois Legislature adopted a resolution commending the teenager for her achievements.
Ann has unshakable confidence in America's teen-agers, but she does not think they are ready for some responsibilities—voting, to name one.
"Delegates to Girls' Nation from Georgia and Kentucky, where 18-year-olds are allowed to vote, told about write-ins for Bridey Murphy and Santa Claus," said Ann. "We are not ready for the privilege of voting when these things happen."
Ann admits that some teen-agers are too easily influenced by the way Elvis Presley or some other movie star wears his hair.

Surgeon General Hails Success of Anti-Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leroy Burney today hailed the success of the Salk anti-polio vaccine and urged 41 million still unvaccinated Americans to take the shots.
He reported that more than 68 million Americans have received at least one Salk shot since the program was started April 12, 1955.

Motor Vehicle Registration Shows Increase

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Motor vehicle registration at the half-way mark of 1957 was 116,080 greater than at the same time last year and only 94,492 below the 1956 12-month total, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter reported today.
In only one category, buses, was there a decline, from 1,661 a year ago to 1,600 this year. The $77,842,005.50 collected in license fees represents an increase of $5,370,313.50 over last year's revenue at the same time, Secretary Carpenter said.
Comparative figures for the six-month period of the two years are:
1957 1956
Passenger Cars 2,912,110 2,820,669
Trucks 411,597 399,064
Buses 1,600 1,661
Trailers and semi-trailers 98,703 87,382
Motorcycles 18,816 18,176

Soil Conservation Service Stresses Safety on Farm

"National Farm Safety Week" July 21-27 is receiving special attention from the Soil Conservation Service as well as from other agencies and local organizations according to Tom Morgan, Conservationist, in charge of the Saline County Soil Conservation Service office.
Morgan pointed out that conservation of human resources is important as well as conservation of natural resources, and that we cannot afford to lose any of our good Conservation District Cooperators via the accident route.
The replacement of gullies with good grassed waterways which can easily be crossed, the repair of broken tile and filling of the tile hole are examples of conservation practices which create safer farm working conditions Morgan explained. A well organized conservation Farm Plan, resulting in a systematic operation of the farm should create a safer place to work and live in as well as conserve soil, Morgan added.
The National Safety Council reports that farm accidents killed 13,000 and injured 1,100,000 farm people during 1956. So be careful, when building that waterway or pond. You are needed by your family, by farm friends, and by the nation.
The Soil Conservation Service has a very active safety program for their own personnel throughout the country. This program includes awards for preventing motor vehicle accidents and for preventing disabling injuries.

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

RELIEVED to have made his decision, Garde settled down to work, knowing happiness at being on somewhat firm ground with Nan. As popular as she was, she would not have called Garde if she didn't like him. And that was a fine start for the project which he had in mind.

He cleared up his morning office list, he made a house call or two, helped Cornet with some emergency surgery and during the afternoon took over two new babies for Ruble; he was also asked to help the obstetrician persuade one of the mothers not to nurse her child. Ruble asked for that help.

"There's a strong history of breast cancer in her family," he stated.

"Can't you just tell her not to do it?"

"No. That's not enough. She may have other children, and another obstetrician—and I feel she should know that the milk factor is an inciter of cancer is determined enough for her to avoid the risk. Ever."

"I'll talk to her," Garde promised. The staff men were gathered for one of their frequent sessions at the end of the day. There was nothing prearranged or formal about these meetings. The doctors had come there to change their clothes before going home, and now they talked.

Ruble was sitting on the coffee table, meticulously dressed, as always. Today he wore a dark blue flannel suit, a pink shirt and a narrow silk tie of pale gray. Cornet, on the other extreme, had pulled an ancient corduroy coat over his yellow T-shirt; he was going to play golf. Windsor was struggling with a pullover sweater, and Garde was wearing no more than a bath towel around his hips.

"Get some clothes on, Shelton," Ruble prodded him. "I'll introduce you to the mother, then you'd better go home and take a nap, because I discharged the Kennedy baby today."

Windsor and Cornet groaned. Garde looked at them.

"You won't have to for long, boy," Dewey promised. "The Kennedy—you know them?"

"I know her," said Garde calmly. "I've already told her there wasn't a thing to do about the kid's bat ears. I told her they were hereditary, and any taping or tying would only hold 'em down temporarily." He straightened from tying his shoes. "She didn't believe me, but they'll fly out just the same."

HE went with Ruble to see the new mother, and managed to advise her without frightening her; then he returned to his office. Hoping to qualify before too long for a fellowship in the College of Physicians, he was keeping a record on tape of cases as might be useful to him at the time of the board examinations.

He sat down at his desk, snapped on the light and opened the drawer where he kept the recorder. With his arm outstretched to plug the gadget into the receptacle, he was struck with an odd feeling—not new by any means, but tonight especially keen—that he was no longer Garde Shelton, but the man in whose chair he sat, at whose desk he worked. Using Lillard's pen, his books, his office, there had been a slow and steady transposition of character. He still was Garde, but that friendly little session in the doctor's room seemed to have been a strong push to complete the changeover. And markedly tonight there seemed to be not much left of Garde Shelton in this office or in this clinic building where he had followed Kurt's footsteps until they had become his own, where he did the things that other doctor had done, talked as he had talked.

Which was all very well if Garde Shelton wanted to be Kurt Lillard; if he was willing to stop being Garde Shelton.

"And what will you say to her," asked Ruble, "when she calls you at 12:45 tonight to tell you the baby is crying?"

"And you must come over right away, Doctor!" said Windsor in a high falsetto.

GARDE looked at his friends. "Why, I've worked up a little routine," he said. "For new babies, and especially for new babies of obnoxious parents."

"Yeah," Dewey confirmed. "The Kennedys have been married about 10 years, and this is their first. And about 12:30 tonight..."

"She'll call about two," Garde corrected. "Frankie because the baby's been crying since midnight. But you're right, she'll say I must come right over."

"You goin'?"

"I'll not even get out of bed. The baby went home in fine shape this afternoon."

"All right, Mr. Bones, then what will you do?"

Garde grinned and stuffed in his shirt tail. "It's a simple routine, and so far it has worked. First, I ask, 'What kind of soap do you have in the house?' Whatever the brand it is, I ask them to try to get a bar of another kind. That'll take a while, and I shall have told Louise to have Marion whittle a soap stick two inches long and an eighth of an inch in diameter."

"You always have to do four or five because the first few break. Well, then, once they do get a stick the right size the mother is to insert it properly and wait. When it comes out, I've told the mother, if the baby isn't asleep, they're to call me and I'll come right over. Now the Kennedys may be different, but to date I haven't had a second call."

His colleagues regarded him with awe. Cornet tiptoed out of the room; Windsor silently shook Garde's hand.

HE went with Ruble to see the new mother, and managed to advise her without frightening her; then he returned to his office. Hoping to qualify before too long for a fellowship in the College of Physicians, he was keeping a record on tape of cases as might be useful to him at the time of the board examinations.

He sat down at his desk, snapped on the light and opened the drawer where he kept the recorder. With his arm outstretched to plug the gadget into the receptacle, he was struck with an odd feeling—not new by any means, but tonight especially keen—that he was no longer Garde Shelton, but the man in whose chair he sat, at whose desk he worked. Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NE Service)

WHENEVER a telephone rings there is a feeling of anticipation in the minds of most people. We do not know who is calling nor what the message is about until we pick up the receiver. If we are away from our desks or away from home a ringing telephone causes us a lot of alarm.

The telephone reaches out over many miles to make contact with people far and near. It brings people together who might otherwise have no direct contact. This little instrument conveys happiness and sorrow, love and hate, business and pleasure. It is as friendly as the voice at the other end of the wire.

When we pray we make contact with God. We partake of His love, His presence, His guidance.

Reflecting record export demand for American coal, dumpings over the Hampton Roads, Va., piers in 1956 rose to 56,032,731 tons, a new high and a gain of 38.6 per cent over the 1955 total of 37,551,663 tons. All three railroads serving Hampton Roads, The Virginian, Norfolk & Western, and the Chesapeake & Ohio reported sharp gains in coal tonnage transported to that port in 1956.

Illinois to Draft 500 in September

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Illinois' September draft quota is expected to be about 500 men under the Defense Department order slashing the national call for September to 8,000 men, state Selective Service headquarters said today.

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, state Selective Service chief, said Illinois' share of the national quota has been running just over 6 per cent.

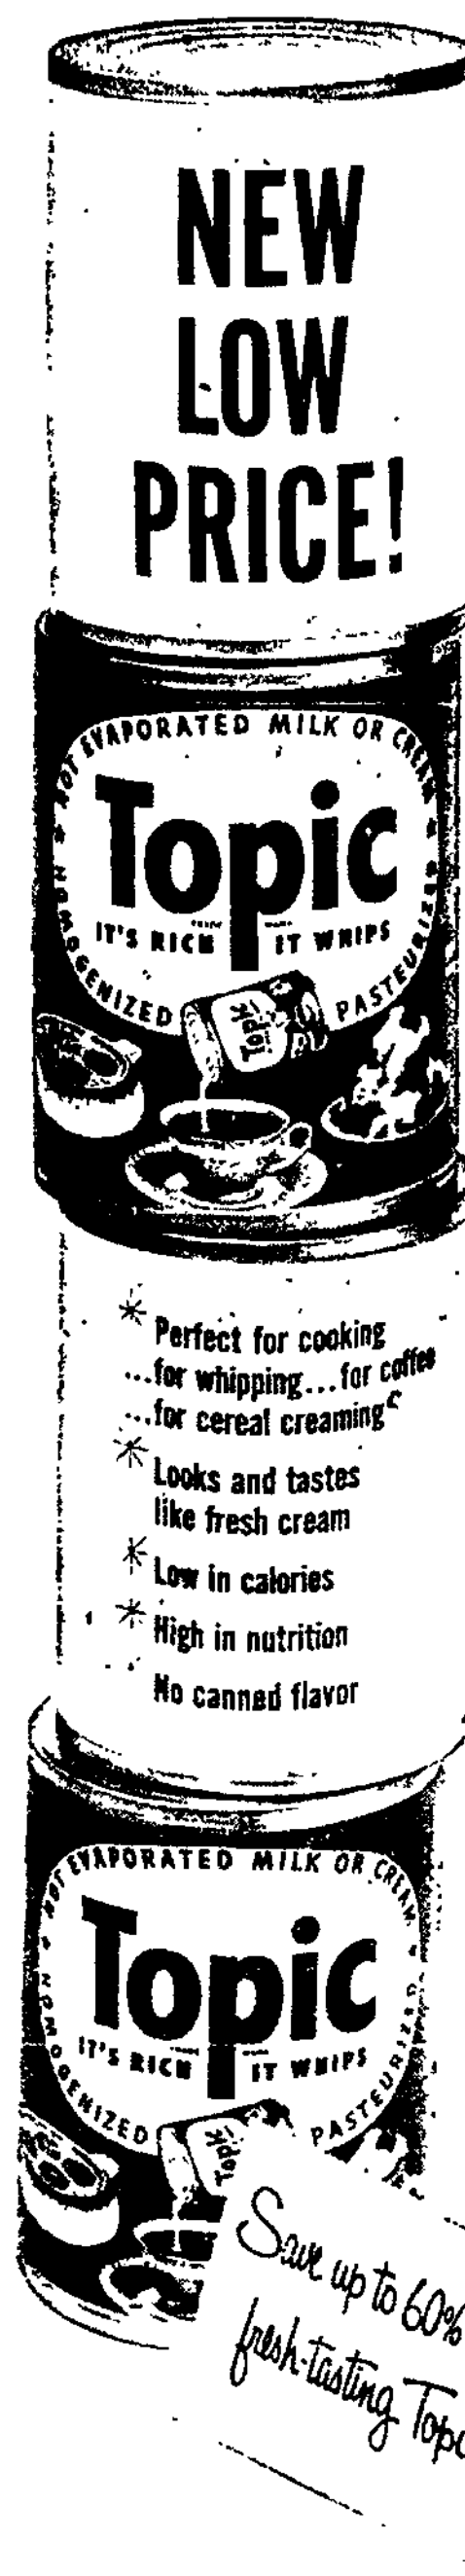

This would mean Illinois will have to supply about 500 of the 8,000 men to be called nationally, but the exact figure will not be known for several days, Armstrong said.

Best Year Yet, Weeks Reports

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks predicts this year will be the "best yet" economically for the United States.

But he warned that "inflation must be controlled—the kind of dollars we have is more important than the number of them."

Weeks said Tuesday at a National Press Club luncheon that the Eisenhower administration's record on guarding against inflation is good.

Weeks also said the value of the nation's output of goods and services rose 6 per cent to an annual rate of 431 billion dollars in the first half of the year.

But the Commerce Department said Tuesday night that part of the increase was due to higher prices and did not reflect growth of real economic activity. The department's report also said that personal income jumped to an annual rate of 340 billion dollars—5 1/2 per cent higher than the rate for the first half of 1956.

Consumer buying kept pace with the step-up in income and climbed 5 per cent to an annual rate of 277 billion dollars for the first six months, it said.

Urge Motorists To Replace Peeled License Plates

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The secretary of state's office reported today it has enlisted the help of the state police in a drive to have motorists replace license plates from which the paint has peeled.

State policemen will stop motorists with such plates and ask them to fill out a card requesting replacement of the defective plates.

Large numbers of 1957 Illinois automobile license plates were defective. The manufacturer has agreed to replace the plates, from which paint has peeled, without charge to the state or the motorist.

At first the secretary of state's office made replacement of the plates voluntary on the part of motorists. But now state police will stop motorists with peeled plates and have them fill out cards requesting replacement.

More than 21,000 plates have already been replaced.

At Saline County Fair, Harrisburg, Sunday Night

TOP ROCK 'N' ROLLER—PAT KELLY will headline a group of entertainers at the Saline county fair at Harrisburg on the state in front of the grandstand starting at 8 o'clock p. m.

In addition to the Pat Kelly revue, including his Shamrocks and Hazel Lee, vocalist, "The Casuals," the Dot recording unit will appear in four big acts combined in one big show. Pat Kelly and his group offer top tunes of the day in a distinctive style, designed to please swing and sway enthusiasts as well as the regular rock 'n' roll fans.

Pat Kelly received his real training in the playing and singing rock 'n' roll style while touring with some of the great names in the rhythm and blues field including Carl Perkins of "Blue Suede Shoes," fame and Gene Vincent, the leader of the "Blue Caps."

Kelly strums up a storm on his guitar while belting out a slow drag or hep bouncy number.

'No Vacancy' Signs Out at Six New Residence Halls On Southern Campus

CARBONDALE, Ill.—With an other record-breaking fall enrollment ahead, Southern Illinois University already has been forced to erect "No Vacancy" signs at its six new residence halls at Thompson Point.

"All the rooms have been contracted for and waiting lists are growing daily," reported I. Clark Davis, acting director of student affairs.

"We still have vacancies in our temporary buildings, however, and off-campus housing is available," Davis pointed out.

Largest temporary housing area is on the Southern Acres Campus, located 11 miles east of Carbondale near Crab Orchard Lake. Nearly 270 men can be accommodated in two large wooden structures, Davis said. About half the rooms have new furnishings.

"Southern Acres has its own cafeteria and student union and offers a number of recreational advantages," Davis said. "Also, free bus service is provided to the main campus."

This year, for the first time, women students also will be housed at Southern Acres. Five apartments will be made available for 24 women, mainly those attending the Vocational-Technical Institute.

Other temporary housing for men includes the Dowdell area, barracks building convenient to the campus. In use for six years, Dowdell housing will accommodate 208 students. Already filled are Illinois Residence Halls, housing 50 students, and Chatauqua Coops, accommodating 31.

Davis said four of the new Thompson point residence halls will be occupied by 480 men students and two will house 240 women students. This amounts to only ten percent of the anticipated fall quarter enrollment.

Half the vacancies in each residence hall were reserved for freshmen in order to give new students an equal opportunity for obtaining the same office.

ing rooms in the modern, three-story buildings overlooking Thompson Lake, he explained.

The same policy was applied at Woody Hall, residence hall for women, which also is filled to its 422-student capacity for the fall quarter.

"Altogether, we will be able to house more than 1,700 students on the campus this year," Davis said. "Even so, student housing will continue to be critical at Southern because of the ever-increasing demand."

Davis advised students who plan to attend SIU this fall and still have not obtained housing to contact William M. Rogge, housing director, Office of Student Affairs. Inquiries regarding off-campus rooms or apartments may be directed to Mrs. Mabel Pulliam at the same office.

Skaggs, Ridgway Win Kiwanis Tilts

Skaggs Pharmacy defeated Ridgway 14-4 and Dairy Brand downed Martin Oil 9-3 in Kiwanis league baseball played Wednesday.

B. Meadows pitched a three-hitter and had two homers and a single as Skaggs pounded Ridgway. Wright homered and hit two singles. Rose doubled and singled twice and B. Meadows, Bensavage, McClendon and Feler hit safely once each to round out the winners' 13-hit attack. Raben, Meyer and Hopper had hits for the losers.

Heggin buried a five-hitter, fanned six and walked five in Dairy Brand's 9-3 victory over Martin. For the winners at bat M. Johnson had a double and two singles. Heggin singled three times and Wolleson hit safely twice. Wunderlich homered for the losers.

Now you can buy big on a little-car budget

READ THIS STARTLING FACT

5 out of 10 smaller cars wear a Pontiac price tag —yet none gives you any of Pontiac's advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR!

Not one of the smaller cars can give you the heavy-duty construction, the road-hugging lift and solid security that surround you in every Pontiac. Yet Pontiac's the nimblest heavyweight you ever managed—and your Pontiac dealer can show you more than six dozen advanced-engineering reasons why! Pontiac has gone all out to make this genuine big car the best behaved beauty that you ever had the pleasure of bossing. You'll find Pontiac's exclusive Precision-Touch Controls make steering and braking the surest, easiest you've ever experienced! Park it, cruise it, try it in stop-and-go traffic... this is driving the smaller jobs can't duplicate.

PONTIAC'S PERFORMANCE TOPS THE BEST THE SMALL CARS CAN OFFER—BY A WIDE MARGIN!

Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete facts-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

PONTIAC GIVES YOU 4 TO 7 INCHES MORE WHEELBASE!

The small cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big—but Pontiac puts the extra length where it counts—between the wheels! Pontiac's longer stride brackets the bumps instead of riding on them. And this extra length shows up inside, too, in stretch-out space for six footers. Add to Pontiac's bonus in length its all-new suspension system and you have an exclusive Level-Line Ride no car at any price can surpass... and a built-in sense of direction and security that will spoil you for the smaller cars forever!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!

Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac... there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now!

So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

Baker Retires After Losing to Eddie Machen

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Bob Baker, a retired prize fighter, today gave an analysis of the No. 2 heavyweight, Eddie Machen.

"He's got to learn to body-punch," Baker said. "If he don't, a lot of guys are going to beat him. They'll slip those punches of his at the head and get inside and somebody'll finish him."

Baker retired today, after he took a 10-round whipping from Machen for the latter's 22nd consecutive victory, preserving his unbeaten record.

"I've always said that when I got a good whipping, I'd quit," Baker said. "I got a good whipping and I'm quitting. I might fight a ham and egg for a good purse, but I'm not going to fight any good boys anymore."

Baker, weighing 214 to 196 for Machen, never threatened in the bout. It was Baker's 11th loss in 39 pro fights covering 11 years.

Rookie Wins 13th Game as Phillies Beat Braves, 3-1; Cards Blank Dodgers, 3-0

By United Press

Jack Sanford, who made it the hard way in contrast to so many of the National League's highly-publicized pitching prodigies, seems sure today to top 'em all by becoming the first rookie to win 20 games for the Philadelphia Phillies in 46 years.

The Phillies haven't had a rookie win 20 games since Grover Cleveland Alexander did it in 1911 but the 27-year-old speedballer from Wellesley, Mass., raised his record to 13-3 Wednesday night with a 3-1 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

The St. Louis Cardinals moved to within a game and a half of the first-place Braves when Larry Jackson shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-0, and the Cincinnati Redlegs were only two games from the top after Joe Nuxhall downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-0. The Chicago Cubs shaded the New York Giants, 2-1, in the other National League game.

No. 14 For Pierce

Billy Pierce scored his 14th victory as the Chicago White Sox kept the American League race "alive" with a 7-2 win over the New York Yankees while the third-place Boston Red Sox kept moving at a brisk pace with a 6-5 decision over the Kansas City Athletics. The Detroit Tigers beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-1, and the Washington Senators scored a 5-4 victory after losing to the Cleveland Indians, 4-3, in other AL activity.

Sanford, who took 10 years to reach the majors, struck out eight Braves to raise his league-leading total to 124. He also delivered the game-winning blow when he doubled home Willie Jones in the seventh inning. He yielded the Braves' run in the bottom of the frame when Wes Covington homered.

Jackson turned in his 11th win for the Cardinals with a nifty three-hitter, striking out eight. Del Ennis doubled home the Cardinals' first run and Al Dark scored the other runs after his two triples. Sal Maglie was the loser.

Nuxhall pitched an eight-hitter for the Redlegs who scored both their runs against Bob Friend in the third inning on singles by Johnny Temple, Gus Bell and Frank Robinson plus an error by outfielder Bob Clemente. The loss was Friend's 13th against eleven wins.

Don Elston's seven-hitter enabled the Cubs to beat the Giants for the second straight game and handed Johnny Antonelli his 10th setback. Jim Bolger's fifth-inning sacrifice fly brought in the decisive run.

Yank Hurlers Pounded

Pierce remained the majors' biggest winner with a seven-hitter as the White Sox cut the Yanks' first-place lead to 4 1/2 games with the help of four straight hits by Luis Aparicio. The White Sox kayaked Yankee ace Whitey Ford in 2-1-3.

One Way to Aid Junior's Appetite

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — If your child is on an eating strike, let him miss a meal or two.

A University of Illinois nursery school dietitian said that a mother shouldn't panic when Junior refuses to eat. Instead, said Mrs. Rita McGreer, she should keep an attitude of "friendly indifference," and not force him to eat. The child will not starve to death if he misses one meal.

Mrs. McGreer believes it is wise to let the child decide when and how much to eat. But she stressed that the food be tasty, nutritious and attractive, and the portions small enough.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Patterson—Champion or Club Fighter?

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Not even the most confirmed long-shot stabber could pick Hurricane Tommy Jackson to win the heavyweight championship from Floyd Patterson on July 29.

This despite the fact that young Patterson took nothing more than a debatable and divided 12-round decision from Nature Boy as recently as 13 months ago.

Ordinarily, on the strength of such a strong showing, a fighter other than Jackson would be given at least some semblance of a chance in a second edition. The difference here is that Patterson would have to fall from exhaustion toward the far end of the 15 rounds, and the Brooklyn kid appears too well equipped to do anything like that.

The only excuse for the fight, outside of the display of raw savagery, is to find out how much Patterson has improved. If Floyd is now believing all the great things they are saying about him on the heels of his knockout of old Archie Moore, he should take Jackson out along about the 10th heat.

There is a way to batter down any fighter and, if we have not seen Patterson's training moves in a distorted light, he figures to do this with a body attack.

Clubbing Jackson about the head gets you nowhere. So the Patterson who got ready at Greenwood Lake was a fast-fisted youngster who fired volley after volley at the midsection with alarming speed.

RESTFUL CLINCHING IS OUT.

The hurricane lives up to his name — tugging, mauling, backhanding and double uppercutting three full minutes a round. The longer the fight, the better it is for Jackson, and, as one sage remarked, this is the first time he has been properly routed—over 15 rounds. The ideal route for him would be a fight to a finish.

It must be remembered that Patterson did not beat Jackson way off the last time out. Also that no one ever took an easier road to the throne room than the former Olympic titleholder. He came along in a period when the talent was poorer than it has been since heak hustling became big business. He is the most untried heavyweight champion in history.

Speaking of good fighters, as you know them, there won't be much fighter in front of Floyd Patterson at the Polo Grounds, but Hurricane Tommy Jackson's clawing and clubbing has proved very annoying and discouraging to others.

Sharks and Sharks

The two largest species of shark, the whale shark and the basking shark, are harmless fish. One of the best known species is the white shark, which is a man-eater.

Changed Name

The real name of Elmer Rice, American playwright, originally was Reizenstein, but he changed it because it was difficult to spell.

NO KIDDING—Ray Martin III, 14, boated this 11-foot, 350-pound blue marlin off Bimini in the Bahamas. There will be tall tales to tell in Jacksonville.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

The July issue of the "Letter men's Letter," published by the "L" Men's Association has a lengthy article discussing the University of Illinois football prospects for this fall.

Three southern Illinois players are given mention in the article. Promising newcomers among the quarterback candidates include sophomore Russ Martin of Carbondale.

Joe Wendryhoski of West Frankfort is listed among the "most promising" sophomore candidates for center.

In discussing the guard positions, the article says "Landell Lovellette, Eldorado, another top newcomer, missed most of spring practice because of injury, but will get a thorough test in September."

Ray Eliot, head coach, is quoted as saying "It is my hope that Illinois will field an improved football team in 1957."

Hayes Jones, 18-year-old Eastern Michigan College sophomore, has returned to the United States following a successful tour of France and Switzerland as a member of a ten-member track and field team. Jones was unbeaten in the 110 meter high hurdles, was a member of the all-winning relay team and participated with considerable success in other events.

Eastern Michigan is a member of the IIAAC, which also includes Southern Illinois university in its membership.

Ronnie Winters, Carmi's fine all-round athlete of a couple of years ago, enrolled at the University of Illinois last year, but is planning to transfer to SIU, it is reported.

Several members of the fine Benton football team of last season plan to attend college this fall, according to Egyptian Sports Review, feature of the Benton Evening News sports page.

Mervyn Spillman, bruising end, will attend Arkansas State on a football scholarship.

Tom Kays, first reported going to Arkansas, now appears to be favoring Southeast Missouri at Cape Girardeau.

Pete Ross and Dick Simpson are going to Vanderbilt and Jim West to Eastern Illinois.

Don Mace probably will enroll at SIU.

Bob Graeff, former Murphysboro high school and University of Illinois footballer has been hired as grade school coach at Murphysboro. He coached one year at Shawnee.

A bust of Longfellow was placed in the Poet's Corner of Westminster Abbey. No other American poet has been so honored.

First Aid Reports

Louie Beltz, chairman of first aid and water safety, reported 10 Boy Scouts and 31 Junior high students had been certified in junior first aid, taught by Geneva Altmeire, Joe Hollingsworth and Louie Beltz. Eighteen adults were certified in standard first aid, taught by Mrs. Altmeire. At present, there are 28 Red Cross first aid instructors, 55 certified in junior first aid, 46 adults certified in standard first aid, 330 high school students certified in standard first aid, and 14 certified in advanced first aid.

In water safety, Mr. Beltz reported classes were taught by Jack Klein and Jim Durham. Seven instructors were qualified by Jack Borders, Water Safety Representative from the Midwestern Area office of the National Red Cross. Eleven were qualified in senior life saving and six in junior life saving. There are 11 currently authorized instructors in Saline county and six of them are available to teach.

There are three life saving classes now being taught by the following instructors: Mike Bacon, Jim Durham, John C. Wilson, Judy Belt and Charles Polk. Cline Towle, Johnny Gregg and Mickey Mudge are serving as water safety aides. Twenty-five are enrolled in the junior and senior life saving classes. Eighteen are currently authorized in senior life saving and five in junior life saving.

Mrs. Nelle Meyers, home service chairman, reported 219 active service cases, two veterans and two civilians, were given services such as emergency leave verifications, reporting for military, Veterans Administration, servicemen, veterans and their families, assistance in obtaining allotments or other government benefits, and financial assistance from chapter funds; 283 active service and 10 civilians were given information or limited service for a total of 516 given service.

Blood, Fund Reports

Mrs. B. E. Montgomery gave the report on the blood program for Russell Malan, county blood program chairman. Six hundred sixty-seven pints of blood were used in Saline county hospitals and blood was replaced in other hospitals for 43 patients who were residents of the county. A total of 529 pints of blood was donated in Saline county.

Dick Davenport, chapter treasurer, reported a balance in the general fund at the end of the fiscal year of $38.71 plus the chapter's part of the fund drive which was $2,655.76, making a total of $2,694.47 for operation of the chapter for the next 12 months. This means the chapter will have to operate on a very limited budget.

The chapter has a balance of $1,517.17 in the Saline county blood program account and has outstanding pledges of $1,023.50, making a total, when the pledges are received, of $2,540.67. The chapter owes the St. Louis Regional Blood Center $2,335.54 for its share of the center operation for last year. When this account is paid, there will be a balance in the blood program account of $205.13 to apply on the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957. The blood program is supported by special contributions. The cost to the chapter for the present year will be $2,005.20. It is hoped that eventually the residents of Saline county will realize the value of this program and support it in the general fund drive so special contributions will not have to be made.

The chapter received a check for $50.00 from the Davenport Carpet & Furniture store in addition to its regular fund drive contribution.

British RAF Planes Blast Rebel Fortress

SHARJA, Trucial Oman, (AP) — Royal Air Force jets struck with rockets and cannonfire today at the deserted rebel fortress at Nizwa, nerve center of the tribal rebellion in this Persian Gulf sultanate.

Other RAF planes from Bahrain and Aden blasted rebel concentrations in the mountainous hinterland in the second day of air strikes against rebel forces seeking to overthrow the pro-British Sultan of Muscat and Oman.

In London, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said Britain will make "necessary forces" available to combat the revolt. Although he gave no details, it appeared from the tone of his statement that the reinforcements might include ground troops as well as air units. Two companies of Cameronian Highlanders already have been flown from Kenya to Bahrain increasing the number of British troops in the Persian Gulf area to around 1,250 men.

The RAF planes warned the rebels in advance by dropping leaflets on today's targets and the rebels themselves took to the hills. The white flag of the insurrectionists still fluttered from the mud brick fort at Nizwa as the planes came in low.

The white flag was the Imam's personal flag—not a flag of truce or surrender. But his men already had fled the 50-foot high, cylindrical, dirty yellow fort standing in a dry river bed in the center of Nizwa. Residents of the town of 2,000 also had fled.

The rebels are led by the Imam (religious leader) of Oman, Ghalib Bin Ali, and his strongman brother Talib. They have declared a "jihad" or religious war against the pro-British Sultan and have captured strategic mountainous ground around the provincial capital of Nizwa which was once the capital of Oman.

About Town And Country

This was the wrong landmark for a fledgling like me to see at this time so I plunged into a new magazine that I had.

Several minutes later, I decided that it was safe enough for me to loosen my safety belt. This conclusion was reached mainly because a four-year-old across the way was fearlessly running to and fro in the aisle.

I slowly but surely acquired faith in our plane and decided that I had better turn my attention to our crew to see if they knew what they were doing.

The ship's captain was William Hubber originally from Texas and the pilot was Wayne Hodel of New York. I was invited to ride in the cockpit with them from Nashville to Chattanooga and they explained all the dials, levers, wheels, wires and the like to me.

It didn't take long for them to know their job from A to Z. So I laid aside my magazine and decided it was time to enjoy my trip.

It was in the next few minutes that I became a flying convert. I became convinced that this was IT, this was the only way to travel. The weather man cooperated to the fullest. The night was perfect. It was calm and peaceful and the most beautiful moon ever made observation as clear as day. Our plane traveling 6,000 feet at 190 miles per hour actually cast a shadow on the ground.

I was seeing common place things from a new perspective. Friendly farm houses amid beautiful fields and groves of trees; a drive-in movie featuring a western feature; neat, tidy towns arranged in perfect geometric patterns.

I could even see just where bulbs were burned out in rows of street lights in the towns as they appeared dark in the regular sequence.

About the only things that I did dislike on my flight, were the steep turns immediately before or after take-offs which gave me a view of more than my share of land and the sparks that now and then poured from the engines.

But all in all my first flight served its purpose in converting me to air travel. I may still get troubled by air sickness in the future but the difference will be that I know it will be worth it.

I thank Captain Hubber, Pilot Hodel and Flight Attendant Milligan for a fine interest in me, in showing me the plane and in making my first flight such an enjoyable experience. Eastern Airlines are lucky to have them on their payroll.

Nuclear Blast From Balloon

ATOP ANGELS' PEAK, Nevada (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission touched off the 10th nuclear explosion of its 1957 summer test series at 8:30 a. m. e.d.t. today from a captive balloon, anchored 500 feet above the Nevada proving grounds. The blast was so bright it made the morning sun appear to dim by comparison. Its fireball lasted for approximately 10 seconds and the familiar mushroom pattern following the blast rose quickly.

and seeing Ray coming with the gun and then firing it at York. He said he did not believe that the other brother, Robert, showed up at the scene until after the shooting.

The lad testified that he had come to his home with Ray and his wife, that he had been to Carmi with them. He said that he did not hear Ray say anything about going to shoot Vinson York, that the only thing he heard was his inquiring about the gun.

Ray's wife, Leona, said she heard the fatal shot while in the kitchen but did not know what happened. Ray came in after the shooting, she said, telling her "Let's go home."

They drove home, she said, then walked to an unoccupied neighbor's house to spend the night "because the mosquitoes were bad at our places."

Next morning, she said, two other brothers came to where they were staying, told them that York was dead, and took Ray to Shawneetown with them, where he gave up to officers. Hallas and Robert had been arrested earlier.

Mrs. Mable Mobley of New Haven told of Ray coming to her house about 5:30 p. m. and borrowing a double-barrelled shotgun "because he might see a squirrel on the road on the way home."

Robert Mobley, in a sworn statement, said Bob Mears returned the shotgun that evening "wrapped in a green sheet" and said Bob told him that York had been shot by Ray. He said he put the gun in a closet.

"He drove up in Hallas' car," the statement said.

Other Testimony

Liberty Price of New Haven said she was on her front porch when Ray went into the Mobley house. She said later she heard the shot and that there was a lot of running around at Hallas' place.

She said Ray's wife drove to the back of the house, got Ray in the car, and when she turned the corner he wasn't sitting up. She said she saw Bob Mears walking down the street toward Hallas' before the shot.

Several testified that York about three weeks ago signed a complaint at Shawneetown charging Ray Mears with drunken and reckless driving following an incident in front of his place.

Dr. John E. Doyle of Ridgway, who performed a post-mortem on the York body, said it was his opinion that York hemorrhaged to death when shot that entered near the right eye severed an artery.

Brother of Eldorado Residents Dies at Home in Sturgis, Ky.

Robert Young, 47, died at his home in Sturgis, Ky., at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday of a heart attack. He was an employee of the A&H Truck Co. of Evansville, Ind. He is survived by his wife, Juliet; his son, Jackie Young of Elgin; his daughter, Mrs. Robert Sheridan of Sturgis, Ky., and two grandchildren. Two brothers, Kenneth and Young and Waldo Young, and a sister, Mrs. Bernice Sanders of Eldorado, also survive.

The body will lie in state at the family home in Sturgis until the funeral at 10 a. m. Saturday, in the First Baptist church of Sturgis. Burial will be in the We Creek cemetery, Eldorado.

The Martin funeral home in Eldorado is in charge of the arrangements.

Explosion Rips Hole in Plane; Man is Missing

GEORGE AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An explosion ripped a four-by-seven-foot hole in a Western Air Lines plane today. A passenger was missing and presumed to have been blown out of the craft.

The airline said pilot Capt. Milt Shirk, Los Angeles, radioed at 7:37 a. m. e.d.t. that he had declared an emergency existed aboard the Convair-440 because a rear window had blown out.

Two minutes later he reported that a large hole had been blown in the airplane while flying at 10,000 feet. Shirk landed at this Air Force base where military authorities took charge.

Twelve persons were listed on the passenger manifest of flight 39 when the plane left Las Vegas, Nev. Only 11 were counted when the plane made its emergency landing here.

Three passengers said they had seen a man identified as S. F. Binstock, of North Hollywood, Calif., enter the plane's lavatory shortly after takeoff. They said they never saw him leave the cubicle.

The section ripped out of the plane was at the lavatory.

Railway Express Asks Rate Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Railway Express Agency has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for a nationwide 15 per cent general increase in express rates.

The agency told the commission that the 11 per cent hike authorized by the ICC last month for shipments in the East had failed to offset the agency's increasing annual deficit. It also noted that agency workers are slated to get a 7 per cent an hour wage increase on Nov. 1.

In the last five years, the ICC has authorized express rate increases totaling 37 per cent.

James Bond to Show Firearm Collection on SII Feature Over WSIL

James Bond of Galatia will show his collection of old firearms on WSIL-TV, Channel 22, Harrisburg at 9:45 p. m. (CST) on Monday, July 29.

Historical anecdotes of the firearms also will be related by Bond and his program guests.

The 15-minute telecast is in the "Visiting Southern Illinois" series, sponsored by Southern Illinois Incorporated and WSIL-TV as a public service feature.

Safecrackers Use Fan to Disperse Tear Gas Fumes

TEUTOPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—Safecrackers used a fan to disperse fumes from a tear gas bomb inside a safe Wednesday night and at nearby Effingham a decoy phone call was used during a drug store narcotics burglary.

Authorities said the two lootings and the pilfering of a harness shop at Teutopolis "look like the work of professionals." Effingham Police Chief Cletus Lamb said he believed the same group pulled all three jobs.

The safecrackers took $993 from the Weber's hardware store after entering through a rear window and chiseling off the safe's combination. A tear gas bomb inside the safe went off, but the enterprising thieves used a fan to clear the fumes. They left checks and a cash bag.

At Effingham, a decoy phone call reporting a prowler sent police to investigate, leaving the way clear for a break-in at the Leo Craig drug store on the main street.

Authorities said "hundreds of dollars worth" of narcotics, cameras, cigaret lighters, barometers and watches were taken.

House All But Gives Up On School Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—House supporters of the federal school construction bill all but tossed in the towel today.

A few House Republicans sought to get to President Eisenhower to tell him that only a strong last-minute plea by him could save the $1,500,000,000 compromise measure.

But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he knew of no plans by Eisenhower to issue such a special appeal before the vote on the bill expected by tonight.

Hagerty repeated his previous statements that "the President wants a school bill. He disagrees on some of the details of the pending bill but it is acceptable to him." Even the most optimistic vote estimate still shows 30 or more votes would be needed for passage. A similar bill was killed last year.

Dismiss Suit Against A&P

CHICAGO (AP)—Federal Judge William J. Campbell today dismissed a three-million-dollar antitrust suit against the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., its subsidiary, Woman's Day magazine, and three other defendants.

The suit, filed March 2, 1956, charged the A&P the magazine, the General Foods Corp., the Hunt Food Co., and the Morton Salt Co., with violating the antitrust provisions of the Clayton Act by distributing the magazine in A&P stores.

The suit charged A&P has been enabled through the advertising placed in the magazine by the two food firms and the Morton company, to build up a "captive audience" of women customers.
